Legal Battle over Stoutsville School Transfer Looms

District Shift Is Refused by Fairfield Co.

Columbus Attorney To Handle Case
For Citizen Group

The Fairfield County Board of Education has notified the Logan Elm Board of Education it will not approve the transfer of the Clearcreek Local School District (Stoutsville) to the Logan Elm Board's jurisdiction.

But Joseph Asher, Columbus attorney hired by a Stoutsville Citizens Committee for consolidation, stated today that the Fairfield Board has no alternative but to transfer the territory July 1 according to a recent statute passed by the Ohio General Assembly.

The Fairfield Board disapproved the transfer of the Clearcreek District in its regular session March 3.

Logan Elm School Board head, Dr. Wells Wilson, this morning stated that until the Clearcreek Twp. school district is transferred, the Logan Elm Board's "hands are tied."

He said the Logan Elm Board has included Clearcreek in its plans for a consolidated high school since it felt the majority of Clearcreek residents are in favor of entering Logan Elm as shown by the November 1958 election.

Dr. Wilson stated, "We (the Logan Elm Board) will go ahead with the idea that Clearcreek will enter our district July 1. Present plans for the high school building will not be altered."

Clearcreek Twp. voters decided to join with Logan Elm in the November 1958 general election by a vote of 338 for transferring to 226 against for a 55.9 percent majority to consolidate.

According to state law, when voters of a district decide by a majority vote to enter another school district it is mandatory upon both the local and county boards of education to approve such transfer.

THE FAIRFIELD Board also notified Pickaway County Superintendent George M. McDowell; Miss Evelyn Reichelderfer, Clerk of the Clearcreek Board, and E. E. Holt, State Superintendent of Public Instruction. It met March 3 with Robert E. Johnson, an attorney, employed by another group of Clearcreek Twp. taxpayers who are against consolidation with Logan Elm.

The Fairfield Board based its refusal on the opinion that the November 1958 election was not duly and legally constituted.

It was referring to what it termed "false and misleading representation of the issue on the ballot" which stated that the transfer was subject to the acceptance by the Clearcreek Local School District Board of Education.

The Clearcreek Board voted 3-2 against consolidation with Logan Elm. Attorney Asher stated that the voters balloted with the intent to transfer to Logan Elm and would not be concerned with how it would be done.

Asher, who represented Wayne Twp. and New Holland local school districts in their successful fights to withdraw from the Westfall consolidated school district, said he believes the ballot valid.

Asher stated he doesn't believe the voters of Clearcreek Twp. were misled by the printed matter on the ballot and that the Fairfield Board was arguing on a "mere" technicality.

The Columbus attorney said that if the Fairfield Board doesn't comply with state statute by July 1, he will initiate a writ of mandamus ordering the board to do so.

Asher said he will file the writ in either the Fairfield County Common Pleas Court or more probably in the State Supreme Court, which also has jurisdiction.

"To file a writ before the July 1 deadline would be premature, for the Fairfield Board has until that date to comply," Asher said.

Asher concluded, "As far as I'm (Continued on Page Two)

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Lassie, come home or you'll go blind.

That's the plea of 15-year-old Madeline Derkis of nearby Holland whose 9-month-old collie, Lassie, strayed away Sunday morning.

Dr. Fred C. Hartman, Lassie's veterinarian, said Lassie has a congenital separation of the retina. In other words, the tissue which holds the retina against the rear of the eyeball is loose.

Since shortly after Lassie was born, Madeline has given her a Vitamin A and D pill each day. Without the daily pill, the veterinarian said, Lassie will become blind in about three weeks.

CINCINNATI (AP)—Prompt action on the part of a school bus driver and the Pennsylvania Railroad today prevented an accident three miles west of Anderson, Ind.

A spokesman at regional headquarters of the railroad here said the bus, filled with children, skidded and stalled on the Pennsylvania tracks.

The driver, who was not identified, emptied the bus, then telephoned Pennsylvania Railroad offices in Anderson. Two freight trains were alerted by train telephone and stopped just short of the stalled bus, the spokesman said.

The bus was dragged off the tracks and the freight trains continued their runs.

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Sheriff's deputies today blamed a missing top sign at a dead-end road for an automobile accident in which six Delta, Ohio youths were hurt Monday night.

The sign apparently had been ripped out in a previous accident that never was reported, the deputies said.

Treated for minor injuries after their car plunged into a ditch here were Mark McQuillin, Donald Shumaker, Edward Bowerman, all 17; Edward Churchill, 19; and Larry Shumaker, 20.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Upper Arlington City School District in Franklin County and Plain Local District in Stark County have permission from the State Board of Tax Appeals to submit bond issues to the voters this spring.

Both seek money to acquire land, undertake building programs and equip schools.

Upper Arlington will submit a $2,800,000 issue June 2, and Plain Local submits a $2,550,000 issue May 5.

Twenty-eight school districts have permission to submit bond issues to voters during the next four months.

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Suburban Oregon Council Monday night voted to put a proposal for a 1 per cent income tax levy on the May primary ballot.

The tax would become effective next July and run through December 1962. It would raise approximately $305,000 a year, with $65,000 of this coming from neighboring communities in reciprocal tax agreements.

Proceeds would be used solely for construction and maintenance of a municipal water system.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Jasper Henry Townsend Jr., 28, shot and killed his estranged wife, Charlie Mae, 23, then critically injured himself today, police reported.

Townsend, shot in the temple, is in critical condition in Grant Hospital. Police said the shooting followed an argument on the street near their home. A witness told officers that Mrs. Townsend pulled away from her husband, ran a few feet, then fell as Townsend began to shoot.

plices were counting the money when they were surprised this morning.

All the money was recovered. The four bandits staged the daring holdup armed, and wearing grotesque masks.

They walked out carrying shopping bags stuffed with the cash and leaving a tear gas bomb behind them to terrify the bank customers and employees. The bomb failed to go off.

Detective Stuyvesant Pinnell identified the four as:

Thomas Parks, 27, a plumber of Bay Shore; Anatole Rytsky, 44, a tavernowner, of West Babylon; Richard Hatch, 53, a blueprint developer, of West Babylon; and William McHenry, 31, an insurance salesman, of Lindenhurst, all on Long Island.

It was 2:15 p.m. when the four men parked their 1952 coupe in the lot behind the Security National Bank in this Long Island community.

Leaving the engine running, they stroked briskly, single file, through the back door. Two carried machine guns, two carried pistols. Each wore a comical rubber nose mask, with attached goggles.

One of the men walked into the office of Manager Frank Edmonds. Another bandit waved the 12 customers and bank employees into a corner of the bank.

A third bandit walked swiftly through a swinging door at one end of the tellers' enclosure, which faces the manager's office.

The fourth swung up on the wooden counter in front of the tellers' windows, stepped nimbly over the glass partition on top, and dropped on the other side.

The six tellers, five women and a man, were told to empty their cash drawers. Two gunmen quickly filled the bags.

They missed $11,000 in a lower drawer. Bank officials said later there was about $60,000 more in a vault.

A customer started to enter the bank, saw what was happening and fled. Realizing he would give the alarm, the gunmen left through the back door on the run, after dropping the bomb on the floor.

Young Cleric Involved in Murder Plot

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A 41-year-old woman and a young preacher were arrested Monday after a detective said he posed as a professional killer in an alleged plot against the woman's husband.

Beatrice Gurley, mother of three grown children, and John A. Walker, 25, the preacher, were booked for investigation of conspiracy to murder Hugh Ernest Gurley, 45.

Detective Jack Metcalf, who said he played the killer-for-hire, arrested Mrs. Gurley. He said she gave him $100 as a down payment in the $1,000 deal to kill her husband.

The alleged installment-plan murder drama was played out in the preacher's car while a hidden tape recorder and motion picture camera recorded the affair, Metcalf said.

Metcalf said Mrs. Gurley signed a statement in which she said she wanted to hire one to kill her husband. Walker denied any connection with the alleged plot.

Mrs. Gurley was quoted as saying she wanted her husband killed so she could get $30,000 in insurance and because he had been mean to her children by a previous marriage.

Later, Mrs. Gurley said her husband had little insurance and she wanted him killed because he wouldn't let her go to church with Walker, who shared the Gurley home, Metcalf said.

Kid Scooter Bill Shelved By Assembly

Vote Set for Today
To OK Quail Shooting
On State-Owned Land

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — High School freshmen and sophomores can go ahead and buy another gallon of gas or their motor scooters. They are far from being "unhorsed."

A bill to deprive 14 and 15-year-olds of their licenses to operate scooters suffered a rude and unexpected setback Monday night in the Ohio House.

The measure to repeal licenses of youngsters under 16 wasn't defeated, but it suffered the humiliation of being jerked off the House floor in the middle of debate and sent back to the House Judiciary Committee for an overhaul.

While the committee takes a second look at the scooter bill the House scheduled a vote this afternoon on a proposal to permit quail hunting on lands controlled by the state.

A decade ago, after more than a quarter-century on the song-bird list, quail were put on the game-bird list for 10 years to permit the State Wildlife Division to spend money to propagate them.

Now, in this Legislature, the question must be answered: Shall Ohio sportsmen be permitted to shoot quail for the first time since 1917?

In the wake of a wild week which saw the total number of bills in the legislative works swell to 1,589, this week looks mild—aside from the scooter and quail bills.

Probably coming up is a House vote on a Senate-approved bill to permit simultaneous payment of state jobless benefits and supplemental unemployment benefits (SUB).

The scooter bill ruckus on the House floor produced a spotlight foulup.

A dozen sponsors had their names on a bill to kill off licenses granted by the Legislature two years ago to 14 and 15-year-old operators.

Rep. Harry Corkwell (R - Putnam) offered one amendment to permit youngsters under 16 to operate motor scooters between 5 a.m. and 7 p.m. to enable them to engage in sports and other school activities and to deliver newspapers. He said the rural youngsters needed their scooters to get home because school buses leave as soon as school adjourns.

The amendment was defeated narrowly.

Then he offered another amendment also to permit 14-year-olds to operate scooters, but limiting the number of riders of each scooter to one. The amendment passed 64-62. The whole bill was ditched.

That scared off the bill's sponsors—that and an apparent violation of a House rule that provides a bill must be approved before its title may be amended. Corkwell's amendment changed both the title and the bill.

The Judiciary Committee now has the authority to kill off the Corkwell amendment restoring licenses to 14-year-olds. Sponsors of the bill are confident it will—and very soon, possibly today.

The House Finance Committee started hearings today on Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's two-billion-dollar budget to operate the state the next two years.

The governor's budget calls for 337½ million dollars in new taxes. He notified legislative leaders Monday that he expects new tax bills to come to his desk before bills making new appropriations.

British, French Chiefs Study West Strategy

PARIS (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and President Charles de Gaulle today got down to face-to-face negotiations over Western cold war strategy.

The big item to be thrashed out was Macmillan's new approach to the old idea of arms reduction in central Europe—a proposition of which De Gaulle and the French are highly suspicious.

With De Gaulle and Macmillan for their talks were British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville.

The two foreign secretaries met for an hour first to iron out details so their chiefs could immediately come to grips with the big problems of Western policy in the face of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's maneuverings in Germany.

The latest Khrushchev suggestion for making West Berlin a free city but with a token Big Four garrison including Soviet soldiers got a cool reception in Washington and other Allied capitals.

The Soviet premier made his suggestion at a Communist meeting in East Berlin Monday night. It came a few hours after Macmillan arrived here on the first stop of his swing around Paris, Bonn and Washington to give Western leaders a report on his talks in Moscow.

Informed sources said that Khrushchev had given Macmillan a tipoff on his latest idea for turning West Berlin into a "free city" but the British premier did not mention it in his report to the House of Commons last week.

Macmillan held exploratory talks Monday with French Premier Michel Debre. There were indications of some disagreements that need thrashing out.

Flying Missionary Missing in Alaska

BARROW, Alaska (AP) — An aerial search was under way today for a flying missionary whose light plane was forced down Monday in desolate mountain country about 130 miles southeast of here.

The Rev. John Chambers of the Barrow Presbyterian Mission radioed a distress message saying he was forced to land his single-engine plane. There was no indication what caused the forced landing.

Local Firemen Seek Clothing For Burned Out Family Here

Circleville Firemen have sounded a request for clothing for a local family which was burned out here Sunday morning.

The request is for Mr. and Mrs. Lester Nungester whose house trailer was destroyed by fire, the result of an exploding kerosene stove. The trailer was parked at the Neuding Trailer Court, W. High St.

Firemen said the trailer and its contents were a total loss. Mrs. Nungester, an expectant mother, and her husband saved only the clothes they had on. They told firemen they had no insurance on the trailer or their belongings.

The tragic fire here almost is a repeat of history for Mrs. Nungester. She is the daughter of Montford Pollock whose home was destroyed by fire here several years ago. Through the good will of local citizens and civic groups, the Pollock home was rebuilt after the fire left the family homeless.

MR. AND Mrs. Nungester presently are staying at the Pollock home.

Fire Chief Talmer Wise said clothing and bed clothes are desperately needed by the family. The chief said such articles may be brought to the fire station on E. Franklin St. or that he and other firemen would be happy to collect the items if notified.

According to Chief Wise Mrs. Nungester wears a size 3 shoe, a size 30 coat and a size 12 dress. The husband wears an 8½ or 9 shoe, trousers 32 to 34 and a size 16 shirt.

Snark Missile
Is Fired on Round-Trip

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A Snark intercontinental guided missile blazed aloft today on what reportedly was a highly successful round trip flight of several thousand miles.

The 69-foot Snark, capable of hauling a nuclear warhead on 6,000-mile missions, touched down on the landing strip after a two-way ocean test flight, informed sources said.

The missile has been recovered intact and flown again in previous successful tests.

The objective reportedly was to fire the Snark several thousand miles down range, turn it around and bring it back to the Cape.

The missile was deliberately destroyed on a test a month ago.

The Snark, which has scored numerous hits at the 5,000-mile mark, is powered by twinhigh-thrustboosters for takeoff and a turbojet engine for a sustained flight that may last as long as 10 hours.

The Strategic Air Command's 556th Guided Missile Squadron currently is undergoing proficiency training with the Snark at the Cape.

The 556th is expected to be assigned to the first operational Snark launching site at Presque Isle, Maine, in the near future.

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP) — Doris Koscan entered the Somerset Post Office Monday with a green envelope with brown lettering.

"I want a stamp that will go well with this envelope," Mrs. Koscan told postal employees.

The employees laughed, but when she insisted, they showed her the stamps they had.

She found one too — a four-cent conservation commemorative, colored green annu brown.

Rebel Radio Goes Silent

Mystery Surrounds
Status of Uprising

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Iraq's government reiterated today it has crushed the week-end nationalist uprising and accused a foreign power—apparently meaning President Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic—of stirring up the trouble.

The rebels, whether by choice or necessity, maintained radio silence after signing off at midnight with a final claim to control of all north Iraq.

The victory declarations of Premier Abdel Karim Kassem's Communist-influenced regime via Radio Baghdad met no further challenge on Middle East airwaves.

Mystery still surrounded the insurrection led by Col. Abdel Wahab Shawaf in oil-rich Mosul. Few specific details had been disclosed by either side.

Iraq's military governor, Ahmed Saleh el Abdi, voiced the charge of foreign meddling in a broadcast from Baghdad.

"We advise this country that is cooperating with imperialism to stop spreading lies, because these will not affect the Iraqi republic," he said.

"This imperialist state must know that the people and army of Iraq are determined to preserve our republic and smash all imperialist stooges."

Kassem's regime has been at odds with Nasser for months over the Iraqi leader's refusal to adopt a policy of Arab unity along lines advocated in Cairo.

Radio Baghdad repeated its claim—denied Monday by the rebels' Radio Mosul—that Shawaf had been killed by his own men.

The rebel radio in the north Iraq oil city of Mosul had grown steadily weaker before it stopped broadcasting about midnight Monday.

The final rebel broadcast repeated the aims of the revolution. Several listening posts in Beirut which heard the rebel radio signals clearly Monday could not find a trace of the station this morning.

The two sides had kept up a running drumfire of conflicting victory claims. Crowds of Kassem supporters celebrated through the streets of Baghdad as the government radio blared word that the insurrection had been smashed.

The crowds cheered wildly as government broadcasts proclaimed that Kassem's planes and troops had knocked out the rebels and that Shawaf had been slain. A rebel broadcast quickly denied this and said that a rebel column was marching on Baghdad.

The early rebel broadcasts made it plain the insurgents were siding with Arab unity aims of President Nasser of the United Arab Republic. The rebels did not mention Nasser by name, but they declared they would undo what they called Kassem's isolation of Iraq from other Arab countries.

The rebel radio also blasted the growing strength of communism in Baghdad government circles.

"We do not want to replace our Moslem religion with atheism," it said.

AP correspondent Stan Carter, first American newsman to reach Baghdad after the revolt, said the Kassem government gave no sign of fearing that the rebellion would spread to the capital.

There were only a few army units in Baghdad, Carter said, and they did not appear to be on special alert.

Texas City Blast

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A federal judge ruled Monday that a carelessly discarded cigarette or match likely caused the freighter fire which triggered the death-dealing 1947 Texas City disaster.

The decision by U.S. Dist. Judge Ben C. Connally followed nearly 12 years of legal maneuvering.

It favored the United States government in its efforts to collect some 70 million dollars from the French government and the French Lines.

Legal Battle over Stoutsville School Transfer Looms

District Shift Is Refused by Fairfield Co.

Columbus Attorney To Handle Case For Citizen Group

The Fairfield County Board of Education has notified the Logan Elm Board of Education it will not approve the transfer of the Clearcreek Local School District (Stoutsville) to the Logan Elm Board's jurisdiction.

Clearcreek Twp. voters decided to join with Logan Elm in the November 1958 general election by a vote of 338 for transferring to 226 against for a 55.9 percent majority to consolidate.

According to state law, when voters of a district decide by a majority vote to enter another school district it is mandatory upon both the local and county boards of education to approve such transfer.

THE FAIRFIELD Board also notified Pickaway County Superintendent George M. McDowell; Miss Evelyn Reichelderfer, Clerk of the Clearcreek Board, and E. E. The Judiciary Committee now has the authority to kill off the Corkwell amendment restoring licenses to 14-year-olds. Sponsors of the bill are confident it will—and very soon, possibly today.

The House Finance Committee started hearings today on Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's two-billion-dollar budget to operate the state the next two years.

The governor's budget calls for 33 1/2 million dollars in new taxes. He notified legislative leaders Monday that he expects new tax bills to come to his desk before bills making new appropriations.

British, French Chiefs Study West Strategy

PARIS (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and President Charles de Gaulle today got down to face-to-face negotiations over Western cold war strategy.

The big item to be thrashed out was Macmillan's new approach to the old idea of arms reduction in central Europe—a proposition of which De Gaulle and the French are highly suspicious.

With De Gaulle and Macmillan for their talks were British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville.

The two foreign secretaries met for an hour first to iron out details so their chiefs could immediately come to grips with the big problems of Western policy in the face of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's maneuverings in Germany.

The latest Khrushchev suggestion for making West Berlin a free city but with a token Big Four garrison including Soviet soldiers got a cool reception in Washington and other Allied capitals.

The Soviet premier made his suggestion at a Communist meeting in East Berlin Monday night. It came a few hours after Macmillan arrived here on the first stop of his swing around Paris, Bonn and Washington to give Western leaders a report on his talks in Moscow.

Informed sources said that Khrushchev had given Macmillan a tipoff on his latest idea for turning West Berlin into a "free city" but the British premier did not mention it in his report to the House of Commons last week.

Macmillan held exploratory talks Monday with French Premier Michel Debre. There were indications of some disagreements that need thrashing out.

Flying Missionary Missing in Alaska

BARROW, Alaska (AP) — An aerial search was under way today for a flying missionary whose light plane was forced down Monday in desolate mountain country about 130 miles southeast of here.

The Rev. John Chambers of the Barrow Presbyterian Mission radioed a distress message saying he was forced to land his single-engine plane. There was no indication what caused the forced landing.

Local Firemen Seek Clothing For Burned Out Family Here

Circleville Firemen have sound a request for clothing for a local family which was burned out here Sunday morning.

The request is for Mr. and Mrs. Lester Nungester whose house trailer was destroyed by fire, the result of an exploding kerosene stove. The trailer was parked at the Neuding Trailer Court, W. High St.

Firemen said the trailer and its contents were a total loss. Mrs. Nungester, an expectant mother, and her husband saved only the clothes they had on. They told firemen they had no insurance on the trailer or their belongings.

The tragic fire here almost is a repeat of history for Mrs. Nungester. She is the daughter of Montford Pollock whose home was destroyed by fire here several years ago. Through the good will of local citizens and civic groups, the Pollock home was rebuilt after the fire left the family homeless.

MR. AND MRS. Nungester presently are staying at the Pollock home.

Fire Chief Talmer Wise said clothing and bed clothes are desperately needed by the family. The chief said such articles may be brought to the fire station on E. Franklin St. or that he and other firemen would be happy to collect the items if notified.

According to Chief Wise Mrs. Nungester wears a size 3 shoe, a size 30 coat and a size 12 dress. The husband wears an 8 1/2 or 9 shoe, trousers 32 to 34 and a size 16 shirt.

It drew praise Monday from Sen. John Sherman Cooper (R-Ky) chairman of the Lincoln Sesqui-centennial Commission, in unveiling it in the rotunda of the old Senate Office Building.

"The painting has captured the simple dignity, the solemn earnestness and determination of President Lincoln just before the battle of Antietam," he commented.

An unidentified tourist took a different approach.

"What's the nightshirt bit? They're not trying to make out Lincoln was a member of the Ku Klux Klan, are they?" he asked.

The painting was done by New York and Washington artist Jes Schalkjier after consultation with Lincoln scholars.

Thief-Chaser Fined More Than Thief

UNION, N.J. (AP)—Candy store proprietor Donald Caskey took a few shots Monday at a man caught stealing his magazines.

He was brought into Magistrate's Court where he paid $150 for discharging a firearm.

Charles Koenig, 25, was picked up later. Police say his car had two bullet holes in it and the magazines were inside. Koenig paid $75 for petty theft.

Lady Letter-Mailer Is Color Conscious

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP) — Doris Koscan entered the Somerset Post Office Monday with a green envelope with brown lettering.

"I want a stamp that will go well with this envelope," Mrs. Koscan told postal employees.

The employees laughed, but when she insisted, they showed her all the stamps they had.

She found one too — a four-cent conservation commemorative, colored green anam brown.

Rebel Radio Goes Silent

Mystery Surrounds Status of Uprising

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Iraq's government reiterated today it has crushed the week-end nationalist uprising and accused a foreign power—apparently meaning President Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic—of stirring up the trouble.

The rebels, whether by choice or necessity, maintained radio silence after signing off at midnight with a final claim to control of all north Iraq.

The victory declarations of Premier Abdel Karim Kassem's Communist-influenced regime via Radio Baghdad met no further challenge on Middle East airwaves.

Mystery still surrounded the insurrection led by Col. Abdel Wahab Shawaf in oil-rich Mosul. Few specific details had been disclosed by either side.

Iraq's military governor, Ahmed Saleh al Abdi, voiced the charge of foreign meddling in a broadcast from Baghdad.

"We advise this country that is cooperating with imperialism to stop spreading lies, because these will not affect the Iraqi republic," he said.

"This Imperialist state must know that the people and army of Iraq are determined to preserve our republic and smash all Imperialist stooges."

Kassem's regime has been at odds with Nasser for months over the Iraqi leader's refusal to adopt a policy of Arab unity along lines advocated in Cairo.

Radio Baghdad repeated its claim—denied Monday by the rebels' Radio Mosul—that Shawaf had been killed by his own men.

The rebel radio in the north Iraq oil city of Mosul had grown steadily weaker before it stopped broadcasting about midnight Monday.

The final rebel broadcast repeated the aims of the revolution. Several listening posts in Beirut which heard the rebel radio signals clearly Monday could not find a trace of the station this morning.

The two sides had kept up a running drumfire of conflicting victory claims. Crowds of Kassem supporters celebrated through the streets of Baghdad as the government radio blared word that the insurrection had been smashed.

The crowds cheered wildly as government broadcasts proclaimed that Kassem's planes and troops had knocked out the rebels and that Shawaf had been slain. A rebel broadcast quickly denied this and said that a rebel column was marching on Baghdad.

The early rebel broadcasts made it plain the insurgents were siding with Arab unity aims of President Nasser of the United Arab Republic. The rebels did not mention Nasser by name, but they declared they would undo what they called Kassem's isolation of Iraq from other Arab countries.

The rebel radio also blasted the growing strength of communism in Baghdad government circles.

"We do not want to replace our Moslem religion with atheism," it said.

AP correspondent Stan Carter, first American newsmen to reach Baghdad after the revolt, said the Kassem government gave no sign of fearing that the rebellion would spread to the capital.

There were only a few army units in Baghdad, Carter said, and they did not appear to be on special alert.

Texas City Blast Blamed on French

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A federal judge ruled Monday that a carelessly discarded cigarette or match likely caused the freighter fire which triggered the death-dealing 1947 Texas City disaster.

The decision by U.S. Dist. Judge Ben. C. Connally followed nearly 12 years of legal maneuvering.

It favored the United States government in its efforts to collect some 70 million dollars from the French government and the French Lines.

Rifle Shooting Youth Released To Athens County

A 16-year-old juvenile who allegedly fired a rifle at Pickaway County Juvenile Officer Ralph Starkey, Wednesday night was released to Athens County authorities yesterday.

County Juvenile Judge Guy G. Cline sentenced the boy to the Columbus Juvenile Diagnostic Center, then later learned the youth had already spent time there under observation.

Judge Cline considered the fact that the youth was visiting here and released him to custody of the Athens County Welfare Department.

Starkey was called to the home of the juvenile's relative, Route 1, Wednesday night on a complaint that he had struck his mother.

According to Starkey's report, the youth was not in the house when he arrived. Starkey said the shots were fired when he attempted to enter his car to leave.

No New Contract Negotiations Set In Utility Strike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—No new contract negotiations have been scheduled in the 10-day old strike by utility workers against the Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co., company officials said today.

Police are still investigating several acts of vandalism against company equipment. No new incidents have been reported.

The strike began at midnight Feb. 28 when about 1,300 utility workers left their jobs after their old contract expired. The firm serves 23 central and southern Ohio counties.

Positions remain the same, with the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers asking for a 6 per cent wage hike plus a 10-cent hourly boost for top linemen. The company has offered a 3½ per cent increase.

U.S. Senator Urges 4-Power Control for All of Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP)—Free world leaders were urged by Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) today to counter the latest Soviet proposal with an offer for a four-power guarantee of freedom for all of Berlin.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev limited his suggestion Monday to West Berlin. He said "a minimum number of troops," drawn either from the four major powers or from neutral nations, might be stationed there.

Mansfield, the assistant Democratic leader, said in an interview he shares the skepticism of other U.S. leaders concerning the various Khrushchev proposals. But he said the State Dept. would take advantage of Khrushchev's suggestion for a guarantee of West Berlin's independence with neutral or Big Four troops.

"That wouldn't be enough," Mansfield said. "But if Khrushchev wants to cover all of Berlin under United Nations guarantees on access and control of East and West Berlin, then I think that would be worthy of consideration."

Khrushchev's proposal, which met a cautious reception from State Department officials, was described by Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee as only a variation of an old story.

"It sounds like some of the things that Mikoyan was saying when he was here," Fulbright said. He alluded to conversations committee members had with Anastas I. Mikoyan, deputy Soviet premier, on his visit to this country.

Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois, the Senate Republican leader, interpreted the latest Khrushchev statement as an indication that the Soviet leader may be seeking to maneuver his way out of his Nov. 27 ultimatum for the withdrawal of Allied troops from West Berlin by May 27.

"But it is difficult to judge what Khrushchev is up to," Dirksen said. "That was his Monday statement. What he will say today or tomorrow we don't know. He changes position as fast as the slots in a revolving door."

'Blacklist' Liquor Sale Brings Arrest

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A man walked into Letty's Bar today, bought a shot of liquor, gulped it down and ordered another.

At that, state liquor agents confiscated the second drink and arrested the bartender.

An Ohio law prohibiting sale of liquor to persons on a liquor blacklist had been invoked for the first time in the history of Lucas County.

The case began Feb. 14 after liquor agents received a complaint from the man's wife. She named two bars he was frequenting and said his drinking was harmful to him and his family.

Subsequently, the two bars and the man were notified by registered mail that he was on the blacklist and could not be served liquor.

They said the bartender, Rama E. Fox, admitted that he knew the man, who was not identified, was on the blacklist but would give no reason for serving him.

Maximum penalty upon conviction for selling liquor to a blacklisted person is $300 and six months in jail.

LaRue Violates Probation; Sent to OSP

William E. LaRue, 22, Route 2, Ashville, yesterday in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court was sentenced to the Ohio State Penitentiary, Columbus, for violation of his probation.

LaRue received a sentence of from one to 25 years at hard labor in the OSP. He was arrested Sept. 9, 1958, for the unarmed robbery of Virgil Stires, associated with a concession at the Pickaway County Fair.

Stires was robbed of a pocket knife, pocket watch and $90. LaRue was bound to the County Grand Jury under $5,000 bond.

He was indicted by the September 1958 term of the Grand Jury and pleaded guilty at his arraignment. He was placed on three years probation Sept. 30, 1958.

HE VIOLATED HIS probation by inhabiting a place where liquor was sold, namely Five Trails, N. Court St.

At his probation violation hearing in early February, LaRue was released on bond until Monday due to his father's heart condition, according to the court.

LaRue is the second of three persons accused of participating in the Stires unarmed robbery to violate his probation and be sentenced to prison. Joseph Heeter was sent to the Ohio State Reformatory, Mansfield, in December 1958, for probation violation.

Stevens was pronounced guilty of the OMVI charge by a petit jury that meditated less than a half hour. He was arrested Aug. 11, 1957, on Route 159 in Pickaway Twp. by Deputy Sheriff John E. Wolford.

Stevens was indicted by the October 1957 term of the Pickaway County Grand Jury. He registered 0.20 in a blood alcohol test administered at the time of his arrest. A total of 0.15 is considered by law enough to be under the influence.

Stevens will be sentenced Friday. Members of the jury were Joseph Gooley, Mrs. Lois Samuel, Lewis Gantz Jr., Kermit Dountz, Mrs. Mary O'Donnell, Orland Hockman.

Darrell Furniss, Sewell R. Beers, Mrs. Stella Wallace, Mrs. Mary E. Smith, Fred Call Jr. and John C. Steinhauer. Witnesses called to testify were Dr. Henry H. Swope, Forrest W. Sowards and Wolford.

Stevens Found Guilty of OMVI By Petit Jury

William H. Stevens, 67 E. Mount St., yesterday in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court was convicted of driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicants.

Stevens was pronounced guilty of the OMVI charge by a petit jury that meditated less than a half hour. He was arrested Aug. 11, 1957, on Route 159 in Pickaway Twp. by Deputy Sheriff John E. Wolford.

Stevens was indicted by the October 1957 term of the Pickaway County Grand Jury. He registered 0.20 in a blood alcohol test administered at the time of his arrest. A total of 0.15 is considered by law enough to be under the influence.

Stevens will be sentenced Friday. Members of the jury were Joseph Gooley, Mrs. Lois Samuel, Lewis Gantz Jr., Kermit Dountz, Mrs. Mary O'Donnell, Orland Hockman.

Rifle Shooting Youth Released To Athens County

A 16-year-old juvenile who allegedly fired a rifle at Pickaway County Juvenile Officer Ralph Starkey, Wednesday night was released to Athens County authorities yesterday.

County Juvenile Judge Guy G. Cline sentenced the boy to the Columbus Juvenile Diagnostic Center, then later learned the youth had already spent time there under observation.

Judge Cline considered the fact that the youth was visiting here and released him to custody of the Athens County Welfare Department.

Starkey was called to the home of the juvenile's relative, Route 1, Wednesday night on a complaint that he had struck his mother.

According to Starkey's report, the youth was not in the house when he arrived. Starkey said the shots were fired when he attempted to enter his car to leave.

No New Contract Negotiations Set In Utility Strike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—No new contract negotiations have been scheduled in the 10-day old strike by utility workers against the Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co., company officials said today.

Police are still investigating several acts of vandalism against company equipment. No new incidents have been reported.

The strike began at midnight Feb. 28 when about 1,300 utility workers left their jobs after their old contract expired. The firm serves 23 central and southern Ohio counties.

Positions remain the same, with the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers asking for a 6 per cent wage hike plus a 10-cent hourly boost for top linemen. The company has offered a 3 1/2 per cent increase.

District . . .

concerned the Fairfield Board has no authority to refuse transfer of the Clearcreek territory. It is the duty of the Fairfield Board to transfer the territory, for Clearcreek voters knew what they were voting upon in the November election.

SOME LOCAL observers of the situation stated recently that the State Board of Education's stand will be "hands off, it's a local district problem."

They feel that if the State Board would assert its authority and order local boards to follow state statute, many "touchy" school controversies could be avoided.

If the Clearcreek local school district enters Logan Elm, it will bring 338 grade school pupils and 80 high school students.

Its tax valuation is $2,230,000 and it covers an area of 33 square miles. The real source of antagonism comes from the Oakland area of Clearcreek Twp.

These residents are disturbed over the number of miles their children will be required to travel back and forth from school. However, their school tax rate will be reduced.

U.S. Senator Urges 4-Power Control for All of Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP)—Free world leaders were urged by Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) today to counter the latest Soviet proposal with an offer for a four-power guarantee of freedom for all of Berlin.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev limited his suggestion Monday to West Berlin. He said "a minimum number of troops," drawn either from the four major powers or from neutral nations, might be stationed there.

Mansfield, the assistant Democratic leader, said in an interview he shares the skepticism of other U.S. leaders concerning the various Khrushchev proposals. But he said the Senate could take advantage of Khrushchev's suggestion for a guarantee of West Berlin's independence with neutral or Big Four troops.

"That wouldn't be enough," Mansfield said. "But if Khrushchev wants to cover all of Berlin under United Nations guarantees on access and control of East and West Berlin, then I think that would be worthy of consideration."

Khrushchev's proposal, which met a cautious reception from State Department officials, was described by Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee as only a variation of an old story.

"It sounds like some of the things that Mikoyan was saying when he was here," Fulbright said. He alluded to conversations committee members had with Anastas I. Mikoyan, deputy Soviet premier, on his visit to this country.

Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois, the Senate Republican leader, interpreted the latest Khrushchev statement as an indication that the Soviet leader may be seeking to maneuver his way out of his Nov. 27 ultimatum for the withdrawal of Allied troops from West Berlin by May 27.

"But it is difficult to judge what Khrushchev is up to," Dirksen said. "That was his Monday statement. What he will say today or tomorrow we don't know. He changes position as fast as the slots in a revolving door."

U.S. Senator Urges 4-Power Control for All of Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP)—Free world leaders were urged by Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) today to counter the latest Soviet proposal with an offer for a four-power guarantee of freedom for all of Berlin.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev limited his suggestion Monday to West Berlin. He said "a minimum number of troops," drawn either from the four major powers or from neutral nations, might be stationed there.

Mansfield, the assistant Democratic leader, said in an interview he shares the skepticism of other U.S. leaders concerning the various Khrushchev proposals. But he said the Senate could take advantage of Khrushchev's suggestion for a guarantee of West Berlin's independence with neutral or Big Four troops.

"That wouldn't be enough," Mansfield said. "But if Khrushchev wants to cover all of Berlin under United Nations guarantees on access and control of East and West Berlin, then I think that would be worthy of consideration."

LaRue Violates Probation; Sent to OSP

William E. LaRue, 22, Route 2, Ashville, yesterday in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court was sentenced to the Ohio State Penitentiary, Columbus, for violation of his probation.

LaRue received a sentence of from one to 25 years at hard labor in the OSP. He was arrested Sept. 9, 1958, for the unarmed robbery of Virgil Stires, associated with a concession at the Pickaway County Fair.

Stires was robbed of a pocket knife, pocket watch and $90. LaRue was bound to the County Grand Jury under $5,000 bond.

He was indicted by the September 1958 term of the Grand Jury and pleaded guilty at his arraignment. He was placed on three years probation Sept. 30, 1958.

HE VIOLATED HIS probation by inhabiting a place where liquor was sold, namely Five Trails, N. Court St.

At his probation violation hearing in early February, LaRue was released on bond until Monday due to his father's heart condition, according to the court.

LaRue is the second of three persons accused of participating in the Stires unarmed robbery to violate his probation and be sentenced to prison. Joseph Heeter was sent to the Ohio State Re

Circleville High Rates Well as 'Ideal High School'

This is the last of two stories dealing with the Conant Report on the American High School.

Yesterday 10 of Conant's 21 recommendations were discussed. Today the balance are discussed along with notations as to what is being done at Circleville High School.

Conant, former president of Harvard University, spent several months studying the high school. He feels that with some changes average high schools can become good, and good high schools can become excellent.

Here are the rest of the recommendations:

RECOMMENDATION NO. 11 — The school board, through the superintendent should ask the principal each year for an academic inventory of the academically talented students. It would show, without revealing the students' names, the courses and grades of each of them through the four years of high school. It also should show information on what percentage of the academically talented went on to college. The object, of course, is to determine if the school is challenging its academically talented students and also reveal the effectiveness of the counseling service.

Circleville— There is no academic inventory. The school board is given the class rank of the graduating students.

RECOMMENDATION NO. 12 — The school day should be organized so that there are at least six periods in addition to the required physical education and driver education courses each day. It is recommended there be eight 45-minute periods, with laboratory periods involving two 45-minute periods.

Circleville— This plan is followed here.

RECOMMENDATION NO. 13 — Standards for advancement in the advanced courses should be such that a C is required for advancement to the next higher course.

Circleville— This is required at CHS.

RECOMMENDATION NO. 14 — The graduating class should not be ranked on a basis of grades obtained in all subjects and a valedictorian should not be named on this basis.

Circleville— This recommendation is not followed at CHS. Superintendent Hartman reports that some bright pupils elect easy courses in order to obtain high grades. He says he would like to junk the grade rank system and the naming of a valedictorian each year.

RECOMMENDATION NO. 15 — At the end of each marking period a list should be published of the students who had elected courses recommended for the academically talented and had made an average grade of B. For those students whose achievement was outstanding in courses that are usually labeled "commercial" or "vocational", some special recognition should be given.

Circleville— There is an honor roll of students whose grades are B or better, but it covers the entire school, not just the academically talented. There is no special recognition for outstanding achievement in the "vocational" classes.

RECOMMENDATION NO. 16 — The school should have the equipment for a developmental reading program available to students on a voluntary basis. Students should be urged to take advantage of the opportunity to increase reading speed and comprehension.

Circleville— This is handled on an individual basis here, with students seeking assistance in improving their reading given additional library books. The program is more remedial than anything else, which is not what Conant had in mind.

RECOMMENDATION NO. 17 — The school board should provide a summer school, tuition-free, in which courses are available not only for students who have to repeat a subject but also for the bright and ambitious students who wish to use the summer to broaden the scope of their elective programs.

Circleville— No summer school is provided here.

RECOMMENDATION NO. 18 — The school board should be ready to offer the third and fourth year of a foreign language no matter how few students enroll. The guidance officer should urge the completion of a four-year sequence in ONE foreign language if the student demonstrates ability. On the other hand, if a student has real difficulty in handling the first year of a foreign language, he should be advised against continuing with the subject.

Circleville— No four-year course in one foreign language is available here.

RECOMMENDATION NO. 19 — All students should be required to take a course in physical science or biology. They should be grouped according to ability. To accommodate students who are interested in science but do not have the required mathematical ability, two types of chemistry courses should be offered. One for those who attained a C in algebra, and one for those with less ability. In addition to the physics course given in the 12th grade with mathematics as a prerequisite, another course should be offered to those with less than a average ability, called "practical physics."

State Board of Education Seeks Broader Instruction

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If the Ohio Board of Education has its way, Ohio's school children will see their instruction strengthened in science, mathematics and foreign languages.

The board, at its monthly meeting Monday, approved a plan to strengthen instruction in those courses. But before the program can go into operation the U. S. Office of Education must okay it and the Ohio Legislature must appropriate funds to put it into operation.

The proposed plan would aid teachers to better prepare themselves to teach the subjects; provide scholarships; set up workshops for the respective courses; obtain equipment to better teach the courses and study the results obtained by the program.

The board adopted a resolution to offer special certificates to high school students who complete

Boy, 15, Faces Second Investigation of Sanity

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Richard Harter, 15, of Garfield Heights, will be brought here from Lima State Hospital for a sanity hearing Monday. The youth is charged with first-degree murder in the slaying last October of Edward Craven, 62, Youngstown railroad yardmaster. Harter had run away from home. He was diagnosed as legally sane at Lima. If he is found sane at the hearing, a trial date probably will be set.

Scioto Extension OK'd

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Scioto County treasurer has until May 15 to collect real estate taxes, the state board of tax appeals says. The board has granted extension of the Jan. 20 deadline to treasurers in 50 of Ohio's 88 counties.

Circleville— Here all students are required to take some form of science and they are grouped according to ability. Two types of chemistry courses are offered. However, only one physics course is available. There are not enough students taking physics to warrant two sections or two different courses.

RECOMMENDATION NO. 20 — Homerooms should be organized in such a way as to make them significant social units. Students should be kept together in one homeroom for the entire senior high school course and care should be taken to have each homeroom a cross section of the school in terms of ability and vocational interest. The homerooms should elect representatives to the student council and should report back to the homeroom after each meeting.

The student council should be treated sympathetically by the school administrators so that there will be some important questions each year with which the council can be concerned.

Circleville— Homerooms are set up as cross sections of the student body, but they are changed each year and do not stay together throughout the four-year course. There is no student council at CHS.

Fall Is Fatal to Tot
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Victoria Susan Lewis, 1-year-old daughter of Air Force Sgt. and Mrs. David Lewis, died Monday in Children's Hospital of injuries suffered in a fall from her bed Sunday.

F. B. Louys, superintendent of Trumbull County schools, was asked to submit a report on his suggested move in the proposed charter revocation of three other schools in that county. Louys asked the board to permit Mecca School to operate if it allows students from Green and Johnston schools to attend on a tuition basis.

The combined school would have 210 pupils—state law says there must be 240 students for a new high school charter to be granted.

In other action, the board: Agreed to permit the transfer of Warren Local School District to the city of Warren.

Disapproved the transfer of part of Mahoning Local School District in Mahoning County to the Salem City School District in Columbiana County.

Adopted a resolution to create a new school district comprised of the Ravenna Local and Ravenna City School District. The new district, however, must be approved by voters in the November 1959 election.

CHS. In some ways the National Honor Society handles student council work.

RECOMMENDATION NO. 21 — In the 12th grade a course on American Problems or American government should be required. Each class in the course should be a cross section of the school. The class should be heterogeneously grouped. Teachers should encourage all students to participate in discussions. Current topics should be freely discussed and controversial issues should be investigated thoroughly.

Circleville— These things are done at Circleville High School. Conclusion: All in all, Circleville High School shapes up well.

There are several important points where, according to Conant, CHS is lacking. Possibly two of the main items are no four-year course in ONE foreign language, and the use of the labeling system such as "college preparatory" or "vocational" for students in particular "tracks" throughout the four-year course.

There are some who will argue with Conant on some of his recommendations. Apparently the Ohio Department of Education is promoting the "track" system through the designation of diplomas such as "industrial arts", "classical". One foreign language for four years is a prime recommendation in Conant's Report. Locally, plans are under way to investigate this fully.

Ranking of students according to grade average and naming a valedictorian do not have the approval of Superintendent Hartman. He feels, as Conant does, that too often bright students take easy courses to make high grades.

OTHER ITEMS where CHS misses the recommendations are no provision for the highly gifted student, no student council and no summer school.

However, of the 21 recommendations, CHS has policies which embody 13 of them in whole or in part.

Charters took up much of the board's time.

It approved charters for Brooklyn Senior High School of Brooklyn City School District near Cleveland; Hoover High School in the North Canton Exempted Village School District, and Finneytown Junior High School in the Finneytown Local School District near Cincinnati.

The board set charter revocation hearings for Gambier (Knox County) for April 1; Jefferson Local (Adams County) for April 2; Byrd Local (Brown County) for April 3; Martel (Marion County) for April 8, and Plainfield (Coshocton County) for April 9.

Doc Gets Vote of Confidence

The American Academy of General Practice hired pollsters to ascertain what the public thinks of its family doctors. The results of a pilot study must have surpassed their happiest hopes.

Eighty-one per cent of those questioned had never had a bad experience with a doctor, 73 per cent had no criticism of any kind. Overwhelming was the opinion that their doctors are personally interested in them, clear in explaining illness and un-rushed in examinations. It wasn't unanimous, but the critical percentages were small.

The family doctor has long occupied a place of reverent affection in the American tradition. He became a symbol of devotion to duty, a refuge in time of trouble, valued for his counsel in matters far beyond the reach of medicine.

Periodic reports that he was disappearing, in the widening trend toward specialization, have occasioned public anxiety. But the Academy of General Practice is described as the fastest growing of the many U. S. medical societies.

The family doctor's role is a challenging one. If he is to keep pace with the rapid expansion of medical knowledge, he must have time and energy enough to learn while he heals.

Corn and Berlin Crisis

The Senate of the United States came to grips with a desperate problem the other day—the choice of a national flower.

The issue is between the advocates of the rose and the corn-tassel. Senator Al-lott of Colorado offered the carnation as a compromise. A new group represented by Senator Morton of Kentucky emerged to glorify grass.

Then up rose that solemn statesman, Senator Douglas of Illinois, with a paean for corn. "Nothing could be more beautiful than a field of corn in full flower," he said. Corn "kept the Pilgrims alive" and "when people are in trouble, they turn to corn."

As for Senator Morton's suggestion, Senator Douglas scornfully proclaimed himself "amazed to hear a eulogy of grass. Senator Douglas' knowledge of the initely varied uses of corn, bottled, boiled or hollered, exceeds his knowledge of botany. Corn, too, is a grass.

At the end of the debate, the nation was as far as ever from having a floral emblem.

For this exercise in futility, a footnote must be provided. When the Senate got around to discussing the Berlin crisis, a handful of Senators expressed their anxieties in an almost empty chamber.

More TV Sets than Bathtubs

Beatniks Now Less Exciting

By George Sokolsky

The Beatniks are nothing more or less than current facsimiles of 19th century Nihilists, except that they seem less interesting or exciting. The Nihilists believed in a doctrine that everything was nothing, so what difference does anything make. They denied God, home, family, country, but as it is a human characteristic that people of the same kind join together (it might be called "birds of a feather flock together"), even the Nihilists who did not believe in organized life somehow became organized into a cult. It was the same with the Anarchists who did not believe in government in any form or in the family or in law or in social life of any kind but they organized themselves into associations of Anarchists.

The Beatniks or the Beat Generation or however they denominate themselves are hopeless of the present or future, but they somehow travel together in groups and find comfort in each other even as you and I.

There is another side to this coin, the side of youth that is not beaten, that faces the world with meaning and hope and vitality. I therefore present a letter written by a student in one of our universities which is in a different tone and motif from either the Beatniks who have temporarily given up hope or the young Communists whose solution for the problem of life is betrayal. This letter is given in full because it breathes courage and hope:

"You expressed my thoughts perfectly when you said: 'Atheism and agnosticism always have existed, but now these too are cults and they are fighting for supremacy.' At a nominal expense, a town can hire the few police necessary to run down the petty crooks and thus keep the place reasonably clean. But when these same petty crooks band together and organize, they can often constitute the locus of real power in the community and thereby destroy it — even if it be a big city. We seem now to be faced with an analogous situation in regard to atheists and agnostics. Fortunately, we haven't got them in as militant a form as over a communism, which is supposedly not a very significant domestic movement; but the result will be the same if they are tolerated in any form. Secularism, in time, will gut this nation as effectively as any active revolutionary movement.

"Despite all the hundreds of allegedly 'above average' intelligent people I have met at Columbia and Michigan, I have yet to encounter anyone who understands that the real difference between us and the Soviets is that we are a Judeo-Christian civilization. 'Capitalism' and 'democracy' may come and go, but the irreconcilable will always be that to us man is a religious being and to the Soviets he is a machine whose sole purpose is production for production's sake. But if we are to allow an entire generation of American school children to receive a 100 per cent secular education how can we expect to find any 'religious beings' in our population?"

"By default, then, America will have come to accept the Marxist definition of man and will, thereby, be unable to resist the acceptance of all the rest of the Communist doctrine; since it follows logically on the basis of a materialist definition of man.

"That we produce lots of Titans and Atlases is quite necessary; for unless we do, they might actually have to be used some day. But as long as we and the Russians keep abreast, the missiles will likely see no more battle than the Swiss Guards. So, in effect, our expensive military and the industry that supports it are only buying us time; time during which the Soviets can convert the world to their way—as they have been so successfully doing—or time in which we can convert the world to... what? If we believe in nothing ourselves, what can we sell the rest of mankind to keep them from going Communist?"

"Worse still, if we believe in a watered-down version of Marx's materialism, how can we help but aid the Soviets to destroy us? I feel, then, that in these critical times it is the obligation of everyone who has any respect for the dignity of man and the existence of a Supreme Being to organize and to actively fight the secularists wherever and whenever they try to influence our institutions."

Diphtheria Makes Comeback

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.
Diphtheria is not completely licked.

Because so many persons seem to think it is, the disease is staging a comeback.

As a matter of fact, so successful has been our immunization against diphtheria that many doctors today have never had the opportunity to diagnose and treat the disease.

For a disease to be controlled effectively, about 70 per cent of the population must be immune to it. Because most of our children routinely receive diphtheria toxoid these days, they are immune.

A recent issue of the "Physician's Bulletin" reports, however: "Because of the low incidence of the disease, there is no stimulus to maintain this immunity. Therefore we are developing a population of immune children but susceptible adults."

"For this reason, the number of susceptible people may be approaching the danger level, and sporadic outbreaks may be expected to, and indeed, do occur."

Actually, outbreaks have occurred recently in various localities, particularly in urban areas of the north. Up until this time, these places had been almost entirely free of the disease for years.

Another problem created by the decrease of immune mothers is that fewer babies are brought into the world with passive immunity to the disease. If the mothers are not immune, they can't pass this protection on to their offspring.

Generally, we recommend that immunization shots be given sometime between the age of 3 and 9 months. However, some doctors now say that it might be advisable to give the toxoid even earlier just in case the mother was unable to pass on natural temporary immunity.

Occasionally there are reactions to the inoculations, but they are seldom serious in children under the age of 10.

For older children and adults, reactions might be rather temporary incapacitation. Thus, older children and adults should be given a Schick test to determine immunity to the disease and, if necessary, a Maloney test to establish sensitivity to the diphtheria toxoid.

Question and Answer
I suggest that you check with your doctor now to find out whether or not you are immune to diphtheria.

Mrs. E. W.: What causes my daughter's hands to sweat and feel clammy?

Answer: Cold clammy hands may be of no significance. In some instances this may be caused by circulatory and glandular disorders or a nervous condition. A check-up by your doctor will reveal if anything is wrong.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—This would have been a pretty dull season in Washington if it hadn't been for the dollar sign. It has given Democrats and Republicans a lot to talk about.

Actual legislation passed by Congress so far could be stuck in one eye without making you blink. Things will pick up after the Easter vacation. Meanwhile, budget balancing has provided a lively conversational topic.

Balance the budget, says President Eisenhower, dedicating himself to economy in 1959. It's the way to prevent inflation, he says. And since inflation means you can buy less with a buck, his stand has pretty wide appeal.

Nobody knows that better than the Democrats. They know what it could mean in the 1960 elections if they defied Eisenhower too much, voted a lot more money than he asked, and let inflation milk a few more pennies out of the dollar.

So while the Democrats keep talking about how Eisenhower is skimping too much and how the country needs more than he proposed, they're still edgy about leaving themselves open to the Republican charge of being big spenders.

It is easy to see how this can provide plenty of conversation, and it has.

Meanwhile, everybody's dancing on a hair. Eisenhower in his budget provided only a hairline margin between balancing the budget and going in the red. Even that margin depends on some unlikely new taxes and a sharp increase in revenues from other taxes already on the law books. If it works out the way he figured, it will be one of the best juggling acts in history.

Eisenhower called for spending no more than 77 billion dollars, in itself a record for peacetime budgets, and estimated that when the government got through deducting the 77 billion from all the revenue it took in, it would have 70 million dollars left over.

But the Democrats look at the 4,700,000 people unemployed and want to extend the special unemployment pay Congress voted last year for the jobless. This would cost another 400 millions, they figure.

Since Eisenhower didn't include this in his budget, the 400 million would upset the balance, knock spending into the red, and add to the deficit carried over from the current year. But that's not all.

The Democrats are working on housing, airport aid, help for depressed areas, and other legislation that would cost more than Eisenhower asked.

The Democrats also express unhappiness about the money he asked for defense and what looks like a continuing gap in missiles between this country and the Soviet Union. They are making sounds about more money for defense.

The Soviet demand that the Allies get their troops out of Berlin, and the Allies' determination so far that they'll do no such thing, has created a sense of crisis coming up.

So it's no wonder Democratic leaders of Congress last week reportedly asked Eisenhower — after he briefed them on Berlin — if he didn't need beefed up defense. Beefing, of course, costs money.

Eisenhower reportedly said no, that things were all right.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev could make everybody a little happier, and take some of the heat off the American dollar, if he'd just soften up on Berlin and let the crisis melt away.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Herald welcomes expressions of opinions from its readers on subjects of general interest through letters to the editor. We insist that all letters must be signed with the name and address of the writer. However, the name will not be used in publication of the letter if the writer requests. A pen name or initials will be substituted. We will NOT use anonymous letters. We believe that a letter to the editor column can serve as a public forum. The editor reserves the right to shorten over-long letters and to reject letters which contain personal attacks on individuals. The column will not be open to religious controversy of any kind.

Dear Sir:

"Well, I must say that you city people are certainly exasperatingly entertaining to us country folks."

"First, the editor speaks with pointed indignation about how a group of basketball coaches became fogged in their thinking by offers of feasting in the big city."

"Then, a local basketball coach repines about ethics and his humble desire to practice equality in press releases, a moot point in the whole argument."

"And then, finally, when most of us had thought it was time to let lying dogs sleep, up pops an old grad with a pious plea for the editor to desist from voicing pointed indignation."

"And all the while, both the coach and the old grad, perhaps intentionally, missed the editor's original point."

"And that appears to have been that the coaches of the South Central Ohio League had been wooed by the big city and had accepted gratuities on terms laid down by the big city."

"The coach implores that he wants only that all newspapers, big or little, to be treated alike. It seems only logical that his fellow coach in Franklin Heights would say amen to this contention. But what of Washington C. H. which doesn't have too much kinship with Columbus? And what of Hillsboro and Greenfield which lay in the bailiwick of Cincinnati. And what of Wilmington, which is in the Dayton-Cincinnati area?"

"Well, the Wilmington coach already has expressed himself. He is in direct opposites to the Circleville coach. The Wilmington coach has stated flatly that as far as 'equal press release dates are concerned, my interest will lay only with my hometown paper.' This may invoke the wrath of the big city boys. But who puts the butter on Wilmington bread—Dayton, Cincinnati or Wilmington. The Wilmington coach obviously appreciates both his bread and his butter—and knows where it comes from. And in taking his stand his ethics are not in jeopardy at all."

"Regardless of whether the editor is right or wrong, methinks his objections were not aroused so much by what he said or how he said it as much as they were aroused by the fact that he had raised this question: Can the King and the Circleville High School Athletic Department do any wrong?"

Doc Gets Vote of Confidence

The American Academy of General Practice hired pollsters to ascertain what the public thinks of its family doctors. The results of a pilot study must have surpassed their happiest hopes.

Eighty-one per cent of those questioned had never had a bad experience with a doctor, 73 per cent had no criticism of any kind. Overwhelming was the opinion that their doctors are personally interested in them, clear in explaining illness and unrushed in examinations. It wasn't unanimous, but the critical percentages were small.

The family doctor has long occupied a place of reverent affection in the American tradition. He became a symbol of devotion to duty, a refuge in time of trouble, valued for his counsel in matters far beyond the reach of medicine.

Periodic reports that he was disappearing, in the widening trend toward specialization, have occasioned public anxiety. But the Academy of General Practice is described as the fastest growing of the many U. S. medical societies.

The family doctor's role is a challenging one. If he is to keep pace with the rapid expansion of medical knowledge, he must have time and energy enough to learn while he heals.

Fortunately, we haven't got them in as militant a form as overt communism, which is supposedly not a very significant domestic movement; but the result will be the same if they are tolerated in any form. Secularism, in time, will gut this nation as effectively as any active revolutionary movement.

"Despite all the hundreds of allegedly 'above average' intelligent people I have met at Columbia and Michigan, I have yet to encounter anyone who understands that the real difference between us and the Soviets is that we are a Judeo-Christian civilization. 'Capitalism' and 'democracy' may come and go, but the irreconcilable will always be that to us man is a religious being and to the Soviets he is a machine whose sole purpose is production for production's sake. But if we are to allow an entire generation of American school children to receive a 100 per cent secular education how can we expect to find any 'religious beings' in our population?"

"By default, then, America will have come to accept the Marxist definition of man and will, thereby, be unable to resist the acceptance of all the rest of the Communist doctrine; since it follows logically on the basis of a materialist definition of man."

"That we produce lots of Titans and Atlases is quite necessary; for unless we do, they might actually have to be used some day. But as long as we and the Russians keep abreast, the missiles will likely see no more battle than the Swiss Guards. So, in effect, our expensive military and the industry that sup-

Flying Bank Robber Cool and Poised Would Have Made Good Stage Actor

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—One of the nation's most wanted criminals might have made a good actor.

Frank Lawrence Sprenz has shown the cool poise of a stage professional. He has made people think he was a college student or a grease-smudged mechanic. Sometimes he shortens his 29 years sharply by donning a toupee that hides the receding line of his dark hair. Or he sticks an adhesive patch on his face.

And like an actor, he improvises glibly. What other bank robber would pause twice in his flight to dicker casually for old automobiles?

But Sprenz is really a bad actor. He has been a habitual auto thief, jailbreaker, holdup man, wife beater, and since last Sept. 10, one of the FBI's 10 most wanted men.

And now a "flying bank robber." He earned that tag last Monday when he pulled his biggest job at a branch bank in Hamilton, Ohio. Carrying away $25,955 in a large brown grocery sack, he drove a stolen auto to Hamilton Airport. Then he calmly flew away in someone else's airplane. It was the third time in six months he had snatched a small plane, and it gave him a trademark.

Politeness seems to be another of his characteristics, along with an interest in gun-swapping and ivy league clothes. He was quite polite at the Hamilton bank, making his exit with "Thank you very much and goodbye."

But his manners are not always impeccable. His wife Alberta Mae, who is 26 and pretty, says he beat her. She is suing for divorce and custody of their children, ages 4 and 5. They married seven years ago, during a lull in Sprenz' career.

"I don't think I would be afraid if Frank came in now," she told a reporter while the hunt was on this week. "I think I could handle him."

What was he like? "He has charm. He's brilliant . . . if he walked in here now, like he used to be, you would enjoy talking to him. Men like him and he's popular."

But it seems that "Frank always flitted around from job to job—never settled down. He was versatile and mechanically minded. He could fix anything on a car . . . I don't know why he stole cars. We had two at the time."

Frank always had trouble about cars—other people's cars. He couldn't keep his hands off them, even as a juvenile delinquent. He came from an average neighborhood of "nice people" but he was a little too much like his brother Lawrence, six years older.

Frank made an acquaintance with the bluecoats at the age of 11, by throwing rocks at another boy. Later he followed his brother through the reformatory stage and like him, walked away from a reformatory honor camp. Lawrence will be getting out of Ohio Penitentiary shortly after a term for carrying concealed weapons.

Even while Frank served two hitches in the Army—he stole an auto to drive to the recruiting station—he was always getting into trouble for stealing or being AWOL.

His period of "flitting from job to job" lasted from about 1932 to 1937. He once had been described as a boy who suddenly became obsessed with the idea of being a leader. By this time he no longer was shy.

He was an accomplished and plausible liar. He talked his way into a lot of legitimate jobs, three times getting on the payroll of Goodyear Aircraft Corp. His gift of gab failed him once. Enrolled in an engineering course at Akron University, he flunked out.

More than a year ago he tried the gang holdup pattern. There was a $900 junkyard holdup, and one at a local cafe for about $1,500. He landed in the county jail for that, but before the gang could be tried, he plotted their break. On Sprenz' signal, one of the men splattered scalding coffee into a guard's face and they were gone. Two weeks later, only Sprenz was at large. That was last April.

The trail is dimly lit after that. He took flying lessons at a small airport near Seattle, Wash., and at Scranton, Pa. He must have concluded that it is fairly easy to steal a small plane at a small airport. No ignition lock, and few people around.

Last September he stole a seaplane near Toronto, Ont., and abandoned it in Baltimore harbor. Some of his Army service had been at Baltimore.

He next appeared on the scene at a Scranton airport on Feb. 13, which happened to be his 29th birthday. He played the role of a polite, pleasant fellow whose pilot was a little rusty. He needed a checkout in a certain type of plane. The next day, he and the plane were gone. They landed in a snowbank on a little used runway in Vermont, and for weeks he gave New England police the jitters.

En route to the Hamilton bank robbery of last Monday, he left one of his stolen cars behind the Dayton, Ohio, police headquarters.

Flying the stolen plane away from Hamilton, he stopped in central Ohio for about an hour to dicker with a Coshocton dealer for a used car.

Why not steal one? Because stolen cars become quickly hot, and the police watch for them. He had a sack full of $20 bills and larger denominations, and didn't need to steal a car.

Before sundown he was in northeast Ohio, playing an interesting role at a Cherry street bar in Canton. Thumbing to the "automobiles for sale" items in a newspaper there, he telephoned a prospective seller to meet him. While waiting, he chatted amiably with the bartender—Sprenz isn't much of a drinker—and bought a topcoat from one of the patrons for $12.

From Daniel R. Caldwell, who sold Sprenz a small 1951 car for $150, said later: "He told me he was late for work and his car wouldn't run . . . he was very gentlemanly, he was very calm, and he had a lunch sack and some grease on his face. He looked like an ordinary working man."

If and when the law catches up with Sprenz, few people will be more interested than a squad of sheriff's deputies here.

One day in 1955 they answered a rescue call. A man who had been sunning himself on an abandoned tippie at an old gravel pit. He fell through some rotten timbers and was buried under an avalanche of sand. The deputies risked their own necks to dig him out.

So Frank Lawrence Sprenz's death scene was delayed for a while.

It was in upstate New York recently that Sprenz passed himself off as a college student. Before that, he apparently was the man who posed in Salem, Ohio, as a pro football player for the New York Giants.

He scarcely is hefty enough to look like a pro football player. About 5 feet 11, he weighs around 190 pounds.

He seems to be self-conscious about that receding hair line. He often wears a hat or cap indoors. Usually it is a cap of the striped variety. He has brown eyes and a medium complexion. As identification marks, there are at least two things: A one-inch scar on his chin and a crook in the little finger of his right hand.

Both his parents are employed, and have been for years. Police describe them as "nice people" who have lived quietly on Akron's East Side in an "average" neighborhood, keeping to themselves.

When Frank and Lawrence were growing up, the German language was spoken in the Sprenz home.

There is speculation that the boys might have had some trouble with the English language at school, which presumably would have affected their interest in learning.

A jailer who knew Sprenz and his cohorts before the break-out last April got some impressions of the man's personality.

The other prisoners reported that Sprenz was the sort of smooth talker who could sell anything to anyone. Not only that, Sprenz was aware of his own talents.

He had become rather egotistical over his seeming ability to talk anyone into giving him a job or do him a favor. He also was something of a braggart about his persuasive ways with women, although it was not very clear whether there was evidence to bear this talk of easy conquests.

Though he seemed interested in guns, he apparently did not consider them as tools of his trade. He claimed his superior wits would get him further than gunplay would.

The FBI classifies him as dangerous, but so far as is known, his interest in firearms never led him to shoot anyone. Except himself. That was about a half dozen years ago.

While target shooting one day, he stuffed a .22 caliber pistol into his rear pocket and accidentally set off the trigger.

High School Band's Noble Gesture Gets Repayment in Kind

MARTINS FERRY, Ohio (AP)—It looked as if the kindly gesture of the Martins Ferry High School band toward one of its members had ruled out the band's annual spring trip.

But another kindly gesture—this time by the Martins Ferry Lions Club—has assured the band of its annual holiday.

Band mothers sponsor a trip each spring as a reward for the band's hard work during the school year. But when Sandra Janecz, 17-year-old trombone player for the band, became ill, the band voted to forego the holiday and use the money—about $500—to help Sandra pay her hospital expenses. That was done.

When the local Lions Club heard of the band's gesture, it sent a check for $500 to the band mothers to pay for the trip—a visit to Pittsburgh to see a stage play at a date to be determined later.

Slayers of Americans in Algeria Said Dead

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP)—Four nationalist rebels who killed an American and a German and wounded another American in western Algeria last week have been reported killed by French troops.

French troops were sent out to hunt down the killers of Homer Flint Kellems, 65, of Siloam Springs, Ark., and Raimund Airle, a German translator.

The French said a camera and watch found on one of the slain men were believed stolen from Kellems' car.

TV Plans Novel By Hemingway

First of 2-Part Play Booked for Thursday

NEW YORK (AP)—Ernest Hemingway's "For Whom the Bell Tolls" comes to the home screen this week in the most ambitious television drama production of the season.

The first part of A. E. Hotchner's adaptation of Hemingway's novel will appear on "Playhouse 90" (CBS-TV) Thursday at 9:30 p.m. EST, with the concluding part visible a week from Thursday. The total three-hour taped presentation, starring Maria Schell, Jason Robards, Jr., Laurence Stappleton and Eli Wallach, is the longest single drama ever produced on television.

Producer Fred Coe described it the other day as "a very literal television translation of one of the finest stories of war ever written." He says that three hours are necessary to do justice to the story of an American with the Loyalist forces in the Spanish Civil War who joins a guerrilla band to blow up an enemy bridge.

"When you watch this show," urged Director John Frankenheimer, "don't watch the scenery. It's there only because it's the proper setting for this beautiful story."

Viewers surely will be impressed, however, by the settings which Walter Scott Herndon designed for the show—all done indoors in four New York studios. Amazing effects of mountains and ravines were created in a former neighborhood movie house.

Thirty horses are used in the outdoor scenes (to the terror of Miss Stappleton who can't stand horses because "they're bigger than I am.")

In taping the production it was decided that artificial snow was inadequate. So Coe ordered a half-ton of real snow shipped here in refrigeration (total cost $800) to be melting off pine trees and on the ground around Robards and Miss Schell in the celebrated sleeping bag love scene.

U. S. agricultural exports for the 12 months ending in mid-1959 are estimated to be about 3.8 billion dollars.

U.S. Antique Hunters Urged To Collect American Crafts

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor

Antique hunters who comb the highways and byways for cast-offs would do well to investigate some of the contemporary handmade furniture being turned out by American craftsmen.

"They'd get more for their money and start a collection of the antiques of tomorrow," says Mrs. Vanderbilt Webb, founder and chairman of the board of the American Craftsmen's Council and the Museum of Contemporary Crafts.

Mrs. Webb, a tall, vigorous grandmother with 15 grandchildren, devotes most of her waking hours to furthering the cause of American handicrafts, with the result that there are now 125 affiliated craft groups in this country, with a membership of 30 to 40,000 craftsmen.

"Handicrafts had almost died out in this country after the industrial revolution," she said. "People who made their own furniture and brie-a-brac with loving care forgot their skills when they were able to order what they needed from a mail order catalog. We became a mass-produced nation."

"Then during the depression a few people found they could sell handmade articles, and eke out a living. This was the start of a revival in craftsmanship, which now is increasing every day."

Mrs. Webb first became interested in handicrafts when she started a small shop called Putnam

Akron-Canton Freeway To Hinge on Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Whether a 15-mile-long four-lane divided freeway connecting the Akron and Canton expressways is started in the next two-year period depends on whether the Ohio Legislature provides money for advance acquisition of right of way. Highway Director Everett S. Preston said Monday. The route, to be a relocation of Ohio 8, is expected to cost 16 to 17 million dollars.

For Sale: Huge Printing Plant

Springfield Factory
Once Employed 2,300

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—It was the 1956 Christmas season in Springfield when the news came: The giant Crowell-Collier Publishing Co. plant was going to shut down. Some 2,300 persons would lose their jobs.

The action came when the firm decided to stop publishing Collier's Weekly and The Woman's Home Companion—magazines read by millions for more than a half a century.

Both periodicals were printed in Springfield. Now the huge presses would grind to a halt.

The blow was a tough one for this city of 80,000. One of Springfield's largest employers was closing its doors.

Now, more than two years later, the wounds are not healed.

The seven-story, four-million-dollar plant near the downtown area stands empty, its vital organs—the presses and other equipment—long since sold and shipped away. The buildings comprising the plant are far from an eye-sore to the community; they are of brick and stone and fairly modern.

The recession and widespread unemployment complicated the situation here.

But Springfield is fighting back. A development council has been trying for several years to bring new industry here. A five-million-dollar waterworks was built last year to further that goal.

In recent weeks, things have started to look brighter. One firm, the Cascade Co. of Portland, Ore., manufacturer of industrial equipment, has announced its intention to build a plant here.

At least three local plants are expanding.

But the combined employment from new industry will be far from 2,300, and Springfielders still have their eyes on the huge tomb that was the Crowell-Collier plant.

"If some industry would take over Crowell-Collier, we'd have it made," they say.

With hope comes rumors. Large firms are mentioned as being interested in the city-block-square building.

Often, calls come into local newspapers and radio stations.

"Is it true?" Springfielders ask, "that General Motors is going to take the Crowell-Collier plant?" or Westinghouse? Or an aircraft company?

Right now, it apparently is not true. But the job of finding a buyer for the silent factory goes on.

Ohio Edison Fuss With City Booked

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Almost two years after the original complaint was filed by Ohio Edison Power Co., the company and the City of Mansfield are scheduled to come to grips on the matter of a rate-fixing city ordinance.

The Utilities Commission has set May 5-6 for hearings in its offices here.

The company complained to the commission about the ordinance passed April 2, 1957, saying rates for electric power service fixed by the ordinance were "unreasonable and inequitable" to provide reasonable income.

In the months since, the city and company have failed to agree on items of inventory submitted by Ohio Edison as a basis for its complaints.

Contempt Conviction Upheld by High Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today upheld the contempt conviction of Emanuel Brown, New York garment maker who refused to answer grand jury questions in an investigation of racketeering.

The 1957 grand jury inquiry had been spurred by the acid rinsing of labor columnist Victor Riesel a year earlier. It was said that Riesel's campaign against racketeers was the motive for a hoodlum throwing acid in his face.

He had become rather egotistical over his seeming ability to talk anyone into giving him a job or do him a favor. He also was something of a braggart about his persuasive ways with women, although it was not very clear whether there was evidence to bear this talk of easy conquests.

Though he seemed interested in guns, he apparently did not consider them as tools of his trade. He claimed his superior wits would get him further than gun-play would.

The FBI classifies him as dangerous, but so far as is known, his interest in firearms never led him to shoot anyone. Except himself. That was about a half dozen years ago.

While target shooting one day, he stuffed a .22 caliber pistol into his rear pocket and accidentally set off the trigger.

High School Band's Noble Gesture Gets Repayment in Kind

MARTINS FERRY, Ohio (AP)—It looked as if the kindly gesture of the Martins Ferry High School band toward one of its members had ruled out the band's annual spring trip.

But another kindly gesture—this time by the Martins Ferry Lions Club—has assured the band of its annual holiday.

Band mothers sponsor a trip each spring as a reward for the band's hard work during the school year. But when Sandra Janecic, pretty 17-year-old trombone player for the band, became ill, the band voted to forego the holiday and use the money—about $500—to help Sandra pay her hospital expenses. That was done.

When the local Lions Club heard of the band's gesture, it sent a check for $500 to the band mothers to pay for the trip—a visit to Pittsburgh to see a stage play at a date to be determined later.

Slayers of Americans In Algeria Said Dead

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP)—Four nationalist rebels who killed an American and a German and wounded another American in western Algeria last week have been reported killed by French troops.

French troops were sent out to hunt down the killers of Homer Flint Kellems, 65, of Siloam Springs, Ark., and Raimund Airle, a German translator.

The French said a camera and watch found on one of the slain men were believed stolen from Kellems' car.

TV Plans Novel By Hemingway

First of 2-Part Play Booked for Thursday

NEW YORK (AP)—Ernest Hemingway's "For Whom the Bell Tolls" comes to the home screen this week in the most ambitious television drama production of the season.

The first part of A. E. Hotchner's adaptation of Hemingway's novel will appear on "Playhouse 90" (CBS-TV) Thursday at 9:30 p.m. EST, with the concluding part visible a week from Thursday. The total three-hour taped presentation, starring Maria Schell, Jason Robards, Jr., Maureen Stapleton and Eli Wallach, is the longest single drama ever produced on television.

Producer Fred Coe described it the other day as "a very literal television translation of one of the finest stories of war ever written." He says that three hours are necessary to do justice to the story of an American with the Loyalist forces in the Spanish Civil War who joins a guerrilla band to blow up an enemy bridge.

"When you watch this show," urged Director John Frankenheimer, "don't watch the scenery. It's there only because it's the proper setting for this beautiful story."

Viewers surely will be impressed, however, by the settings which Walter Scott Herndon designed for the show—all done indoors in four New York studios. Amazing effects of mountains and ravines were created in a former neighborhood movie house.

Thirty horses are used in the outdoor scenes (to the terror of Miss Stapleton who can't stand horses because "they're bigger than I am.")

In taping the production it was decided that artificial snow was inadequate. So Coe ordered a half ton of real snow shipped here in refrigeration (total cost $800) to be melting off pine trees and on the ground around Robards and Miss Schell in the celebrated sleeping bag love scene.

U. S. agricultural exports for the 12 months ending in mid-1959 are estimated to be about 3.8 billion dollars.

U.S. Antique Hunters Urged To Collect American Crafts

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor

Antique hunters who comb the highways and byways for cast-offs would do well to investigate some of the contemporary handmade furniture being turned out by American craftsmen.

"They'd get more for their money and start a collection of the antiques of tomorrow," says Mrs. Vanderbilt Webb, founder and chairman of the board of the American Craftsmen's Council and the Museum of Contemporary Crafts.

Mrs. Webb, a tall, vigorous grandmother with 15 grandchildren, devotes most of her waking hours to furthering the cause of American handicrafts, with the result that there are now 125 affiliated craft groups in this country, with a membership of 39 to 40,000 craftsmen.

"Handicrafts had almost died out in this country, after the industrial revolution," she said. "People who once made their own furniture and brie-a-brac with loving care forgot their skills when they were able to order what they needed from a mail order catalog. We became a mass-produced nation."

"Then during the depression a few people found they could sell handmade articles, and eke out a living. This was the start of a revival in craftsmanship, which now is increasing every day."

Mrs. Webb first became interested in handicrafts when she started a small shop called Putnam

Akron-Canton Freeway To Hinge on Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Whether a 15-mile-long four lane divided freeway connecting the Akron and Canton expressways is started in the next two-year period depends on whether the Ohio Legislature provides money for advance acquisition of right of way. Highway Director Everett S. Preston said Monday. The route, to be a relocation of Ohio 8, is expected to cost 16 to 17 million dollars.

Election of Officers Held By Child Advancement Club

Election of officers was held when the Child Advancement Club met last night in the home of Mrs. Darl McAfee, Route 1, Kingston. Mrs. William Hildenbrand, president, opened the meeting by reading the scripture lesson taken from 15th chapter of John. Members then prayed the Lord's prayer.

Roll call was answered by 13 members and one guest. Mrs. Ralph Ankrom, The president appointed Mrs. Bill Ankrom, Mrs. William McGinnis and Mrs. Jack Wise as delegates for the sesquicentennial meeting to be held Wednesday evening at the court house.

It was announced the spring conference for Child Conservation League would be held on Saturday, April 25th, in Grove City. The club is planning a tour of Columbus State Hospital on April 1st. The members will meet as a group at the home of Mrs. William Hildenbrand for a coffee hour and installation of officers before leaving for Columbus.

Election of officers was held with the following results: Mrs. James Salyer, president; Mrs. Bill Ankrom, vice-president; Mrs. Jack Wise, recording secretary and Mrs. McGinnis, treasurer.

A bake sale is planned by the group during this month. Mrs. McAfee is chairman of the project with Mrs. Dave Evans assisting. "The Moral Development of a Child" was the program for the evening. The program was in the form of a panel discussion with Mrs. Salyer as the moderator. Panel members were Mrs. McGinnis, Mrs. Donald Pontious, Mrs. McAfee and Mrs. Robert Valentine.

The program was concluded with an article entitled, "Don't Be a Pal to Your Son" presented by the moderator.

Refreshments of the St. Patrick's day theme, were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Valentine.

Mrs. Morris Hostess for Circle No. 4

Mrs. Wayne Morris, Route 1, was hostess to Circle No. 4 of Trinity Lutheran Church, 2 p. m., in the parish house.

Mrs. Richard Penna presided over the meeting. Roll call was answered by 14 members. Reports of the various committees were given.

The circle made plans to remember the persons at the County Home on their birthdays or on holidays.

"A New Day Dawns in Mexico" was the Life Membership Emphasis presented by Miss Agnes Jester.

The Bible study was given by Mrs. Marion Steinhauser. She used for the theme "The Christ-Possessed Life... Is a Matter of Life and Death" taken from Paul's letter to the Ephesians.

The meeting was closed with the members praying the Lord's Prayer.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The next meeting will be held on April 13th with Mrs. J. Austin Dowden and Mrs. Fred Brown as hostesses. The meeting place is to be announced later.

Circle Meeting

Circle No. 4 of First Methodist Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Emmitt Barnhart, 200 Northridge Road, at 1:30 p. m. Thursday.

Women's Clubs Urged to Enter Representatives

Circleville area women's clubs were urged today to enter representatives in the 1959 "Mrs. America" contest, with preliminary judging to begin here the week of April 6.

"In addition to the individual prizes totaling more than $15,000 for all contest levels combined, a $25 Savings Bond will be awarded to any club whose representative wins the district cook-off at Columbus, April 28, D. R. Cotterman, local manager for the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., local contest sponsor, announced.

The club sponsoring the woman who becomes "Mrs. Ohio" will win $100 Savings Bond, and if its representative wins the "Mrs. America" title, the club will receive a $100 Savings Bond, and if its representative wins the "Mrs. America" title, the club will receive a $100 Savings Bond, and if its representative wins the "Mrs. America" title, the club will receive a $100 Savings Bond.

Deadline for entries in the contest is March 31. Application blanks can be obtained at the gas company office 134 N. Court St.

The district contest winner will receive an automatic gas range worth $500 and a trip to Columbus to compete for the "Mrs. Ohio" title May 6 and 7. Runner-up in the district contest will win an outdoor gas light for the yard or patio of her home, with free installation by Ohio Fuel.

Covered-Dish Enjoyed by Pathfinders

A covered-dish supper was enjoyed by the Dorcas Pathfinders Class of the Calvary EUB Church Thursday evening in the church basement. There were nine members and five guests present.

An Easter theme was used in the table decorations. Grace was given by Mrs. Ray Anderson. Hostesses were Mrs. William Cline and Mrs. Gertrude Cline.

Mrs. William Cline presided over the meeting. A reading, "The Meaning of Easter" was presented by Mrs. Edna Shastem. Several money-making projects were discussed by the group.

Plans were made to have a "Grandmothers Hope Chest." This project is to be completed by the holidays. Also a white elephant sale will be held at the April meeting. All members were asked to help participate in these projects.

A motion was made to purchase two flowers for the church for Easter. Following the Easter service the flowers are to be sent to shut-ins. Get-well cards were signed for Mrs. Ella Carothers and Mrs. Fanny Carpenter. Each member is to send a card to Mrs. Lua Crysinger, also a flower is to be sent to her for Easter.

The April meeting will be held in the church basement. Members are to bring cookies and the beverage is to be served by Mrs. Mark Delong. Guest night will be held at this meeting.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. Myrtle Kendle, Mrs. Russell Goodman, Miss Etta Myers, Mrs. Bertie Bozman and Mrs. Gertrude Cline.

Meat is most successfully browned in an extremely hot heavy skillet.

Is It Safe to Wash An Electric Blanket?

Have you been wondering if it is really safe to wash an electric blanket? The answer is an unqualified "Yes." In fact, electric blankets should never be dry cleaned. The reason for this is that some cleaning fluids are injurious to the wiring system of the blanket.

Of course, some women are a little leery of washing something filled with electric wiring. However, they should realize that the makers of the most famous automatic blankets are among the biggest electrical equipment manufacturers in the world. They wouldn't try to market anything that was going to be a problem or that wasn't entirely safe. That's now how they built their reputations!

To wash an electric blanket, start by disconnecting the plug at the foot of the blanket. Then, measure its size before wetting it, so that you can stretch it back to its original shape. Wash it either by hand or according to the directions for your washing machine.

Use lukewarm suds, soap or detergent, first "massaging" spots and stains with a handful of thick suds. After washing the blanket, squeeze out excess suds, rinse well and remove excess water.

Hang the blanket in the shade over two parallel clotheslines, about 18 inches apart.

Using an automatic dryer is not recommended.

While the blanket is drying, gently but firmly ease it into its original shape.

When completely dry, brush the surface in one direction, using a soft, clean brush. This raises the nap and makes it look and feel soft.

If you want to iron the binding, do it with the iron set at a low temperature and use a pressing cloth.

Judge Ammer Speaker for Culture League

Judge William Ammer was the guest speaker for the Child Culture League when it met last week in the home of Mrs. Sam Cook, E. Mound St. Mrs. John Woods was the assisting hostess.

Mrs. Clarence Hancher Jr. presided over the business session. Roll call was answered by 15 members. Mrs. Hancher announced that the Ohio Child Conservation District meeting would be held on April 25th at Grove City.

Judge Ammer presented an interesting talk on wills. He explained the different types of wills and stressed why a person should have one.

The next meeting will be held April 2nd at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Wolford, Route 1. George Troutman will be the guest speaker. He will present a program on handicapped and retarded children.

Personal

Mrs. Clermont McClure, Birmingham, Ala., visited three weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Newland, Route 3. Mrs. Newland was recovering from a recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Moats, Northridge Road, returned home yesterday after spending several days at Maderia Beach, St. Petersburg and Sarasota, Fla. Accompanying them were their daughter and grandsons, Mr. and Mrs. Robert V. George and son Gary, Northridge Road and Jack Moats, Ringgold.

Mrs. Edstrom New Chairman Of Guild 21

Mrs. Wes Edstrom Sr. was elected chairman of Berger Hospital Guild No. 21 when it met in the home of Mrs. E. D. Wood, 126 Pleasant St., last night.

Other officers elected were: Mrs. Lloyd Horning, co-chairman; Mrs. A. P. Powell, secretary; Mrs. George Van Camp, treasurer and Mrs. Budd Harden, publicity chairman.

Plans were made for the guild to donate a double solution stand for Berger Hospital as their project for the year.

Mrs. Charles DeVoss invited the guild members to her Buckeye Lake home the third week in June for a picnic.

Bridge was enjoyed during the social hour with prizes being awarded to Mrs. Horning, Mrs. B. B. Deffenbaugh and Mrs. Dwight Weiler.

Refreshments were served by the hostess to the 13 members present.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. W. W. Story, 125 Seyfert Ave.

Chained Child Still Prefers Her Mother

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Seven-year-old Judith Ball, whose mother is accused of chaining her to a bed for more than a year, told a judge Monday she wants to return home from a county children's institution.

Judith said she still loves her mother and was chained only because "I was a bad girl."

Judith and two other sisters—Pauline, 9, and Ruth, 8—were placed in a children's home last January after their parents were charged with neglecting the youngest girl.

Police said the mother, Mrs. Ruth Ball, 39, released the child from her chain only to go to school and the bathroom.

Mrs. Ball admitted Monday she fastened the girl to a bedpost on several occasions, sometimes using strips of torn sheets, sometimes using a heavy chain. She denied that her husband, Paul, 40, had anything to do with the punishment.

Mrs. Ball said she took the measure because Judith once set a chair on fire, would try to turn on a gas stove in the kitchen at night and wasted food.

Judge Paul W. Alexander convicted both parents Monday, but deferred sentencing until he receives a report from the probation department.

Also unsettled was the question of whether Judith and her two sisters will stay in the children's home.

Circle No. 6 Holds Meeting

Circle No. 6 of the First Methodist Church met last night in the home of Mrs. John Downs, Georgia Road. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Robert Mills, Mrs. Arthur Wilder, Mrs. Robert Dick and Mrs. Merle Thornton.

Devotions were presented by Mrs. Roy Marshall. A program, conducted by Mrs. Pearl Adkins, was based on "Progress by Ecumenicity" for the 11 members present. Mrs. John Evans was in charge of the program.

Refreshments were served following the program.

Circle No. 6 will host the General WSCS on the evening of April 1.

Cut the tops from frankfurter rolls; hollow out crumbs. Fill with salmon salad and garnish with mayonnaise and sweet pickle slices. Delicious for lunch!

Quarterly Meeting Planned Friday

NCAA Tourney Ready for Eliminations

New York, Lexington Slated To See First Of Basketball Trials

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The NCAA, with all 23 brackets filled, gets down to the business of picking its 1959 major college basketball champion tonight with a tripleheader in New York and two games at Lexington, Ky.

The field was completed Monday night when Cincinnati qualified as the Missouri Valley Conference representative and New Mexico State won the Border Conference playoff.

Cincinnati turned back St. Louis 66-59 for a 13-1 conference record although All-America Oscar Robertson sat out the last seven minutes with five fouls after scoring 22 points. Big "O" ended the regular season as the nation's No. 1 major college scorer with a 33.2 average.

New Mexico State defeated Arizona State University 78-57 for the Border title and a 17-10 overall mark.

With the NCAA landing basketball's coveted Oscar, the National Invitation Tournament field of 12 was completed by the addition of Bradley, runner-up in the Missouri Valley. Bradley had a 12-2 conference record.

After tonight's tripleheader at New York's Madison Square Garden and the doubleheader at Lexington, it will take a single game Wednesday night at Las Cruces, N.M. to reduce the field to 16 for the four regional tournaments starting Friday at Charlotte, N.C., Evanston, Ill., Lawrence, Kan., and San Francisco.

Here is the lineup for tonight's games with team records:

At New York — West Virginia (25-4) vs Dartmouth (22-5), Connecticut (17-6) vs Boston University (18-6), North Carolina (20-4) vs Navy (16-5).

At Lexington — Eastern Kentucky (16-5) vs Louisville (16-10), Bowling Green (18-7) vs Marquette (22-4).

Wednesday night Idaho State (19-6) lacks New Mexico State (17-10) at Las Cruces.

Third-ranked Cincinnati, which beat NIT-bound St. Louis 57-50 earlier in the season, had to go all out to wrap up its second straight appearance in the NCAA postseason competition.

Dick Hoover Shines In Bowling Test

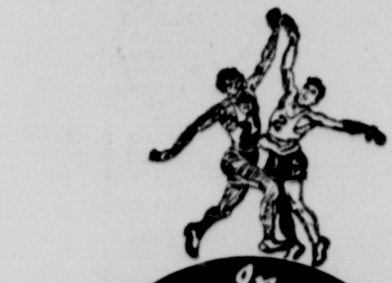

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Dick Hoover, the former boy wonder of bowling, rolled some professional caliber scores Monday and recovered from an embarrassing opening night performance in the American Bowling Congress Tournament.

The Akron, Ohio, ace had a feeble 332 for the Akron Shur-Hooks in team play Sunday night. He came back Monday with 610 in the doubles and 662 in the singles to bring his all-events total to a respectable 1804.

Alonzo Johnson Looms as Heavy

Tigers Add Heft To Pitching Staff

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Detroit Tigers added some heft to their pitching staff this winter by obtaining Ray Narleski and Don Mossi from Cleveland.

What they're looking for now is a strong comeback by Billy Hoelt, their southpaw ace of three years ago.

If Hoelt continues to make a good showing, look for the 4-1 odds currently quoted on the Tigers' American League pennant chances to drop rapidly.

Monday the 26-year-old southpaw looked every bit the pitcher he was in 1956 when he won 20 games. He worked three hitless innings as the Bengals blanked the St. Louis Cardinals 4-0. The losers collected their four hits off the combined offerings of Tom Morgan and Jim Raugh.

With Hoelt, Narleski, Mossi, Frank Lary, Jim Bunning and Paul Foytack in good working order, the Tigers may wind up with the best staff in the league.

Another question mark lefty, Curt Simmons, who has had various arm and leg ills the past couple of years, also turned in a no-hit effort for three innings as the Philadelphia Phillies downed the Washington Senators 6-1.

In other games, the Kansas City A's beat the Baltimore Orioles 4-1, the Chicago White Sox whipped the Pittsburgh Pirates 7-5, the Cincinnati Reds downed the Los Angeles Dodgers 7-2 and the Milwaukee Braves defeated the New York Yankees 9-6.

Harry Anderson shared honors with Simmons in Philadelphia's victory. He belted a three-run homer in the first inning.

The Athletics got slick mound work from Bob Grim and Jack Urban, who limited Baltimore to seven hits. Bob Cerv singled home two of KC's tallies. Rookie Leo Burke homered for the Orioles.

John Romano and John Callison, both first year men, homered for the White Sox. Chicago put together four runs in the fifth on Callison's home run and three errors by first baseman Dick Stuart.

Vada Pinson, the Reds' young center fielder, drove in five runs against the Dodgers. He had a homer, triple and single. Brooks Lawrence was the winning pitcher. Duke Snider starred for Los Angeles with two singles.

Lee Maye, still another young outfielder, delivered a vital three-run home for Milwaukee.

Score Believes He's Regaining Old Fast Ball

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—With a little more work Herb Score of Cleveland's Indians is confident he can regain his control and blazing speed.

"My arm feels fine and as soon as I get the proper rhythm I think I'll be all right," the left-hander said after an intrasquad game Monday.

Score pitched three innings and gave up four hits including a homer by Larry Doby as Red Kress' Apaches lost to Jo-Jo White's Papagos 11-5.

Mike Garcia hurled three innings yielding two runs. Score cracked a Garcia pitch for a double.

One rookie pitcher in camp quickly admits he's no Herb Score. But Larry Locke figures he can pitch as well or better than Gary Bell and Jim (Mudcat) Grant.

In the Eastern League in 1956, he, Bell and Grant were the big three of the Indians' Reading team. Locke had an 18-9 record and led the league in strikeouts. Bell's record was 13-8 and Grant was 12-13.

"If I hadn't gone in the Army at the end of that season I'd be where they are now," says Locke who was discharged in December. "They kept moving up and I just stood still."

Locke is gunning for assignment to the Tribe's San Diego team this season. He's scheduled to pitch for Mobile.

Queen City Cheers, Dances As Bearcats Win Loop Title

CINCINNATI (AP) — A tidal wave of bellowing, happy fans burst out of the stands and swarmed the University of Cincinnati's victorious basketball players on the floor.

The fan outburst came just seconds after the final gun Monday night that sealed a 66-59 Bearcat victory over St. Louis and clinched the Missouri Valley Conference Crown for Cincinnati for the second straight year.

And it gave the Bearcats a berth in the NCAA post-season tournament starting Friday.

The jubilant enthusiasts picked up the Cincinnati team members on their shoulders and paraded around the floor in the boisterous throng.

The first player hoisted was grinning Mike Mendenhall, team co-captain who directed a cool, canny defensive action in the last seven minutes of the game after the team's All-America scoring ace, Oscar Robertson, fouled out.

Mendenhall was ruled ineligible for post-season tournament play because he played a few minutes of the 1955-1956 season.

But he stood out like a beacon in his final game as a collegian last night, scoring 13 points, snaring eight rebounds and making himself useful in playmaking.

And with the Billikens pressing

Parcher Stars At Lafayette

Jon Parcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Parcher, Route 3, Circleville, shows promise of becoming a top notch member of future Lafayette College basketball teams.

This is the opinion of Parcher's Lafayette Freshman Coach Marty Zippel whose team completed a highly successful 17-2 season last week. Parcher played in 14 of the games.

Zippel said Parcher has developed from a "green and inexperienced" player into one who promises to make top grade in coming seasons.

The 1958 graduate of Circleville High School tallied 113 points in 14 games for an 8-point average in a season which saw the Little Leopards lose only to Rutgers and a Ft. Monmouth, N. J. service team.

Parcher was an all-around athlete at Circleville High School, where he starred in basketball, football, and track. He played center on the c a g e squad and held down an end position on the grid team.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Burly Don Newcombe remembers the great days of 1956 when he won 27 games. He thinks he can do a similar job this season for Cincinnati's Reds.

The idea has made a big impression on Manager Mayo Smith. "Just think what a rejuvenated Newcombe would mean to this club," he said Monday. "He'd give us the pitching leader we need to become a solid pennant contender."

"If he continues to improve, and I'm confident that he will barring any arm miseries, he could very easily be that big guy."

He had lost six straight last year for the Dodgers before he was traded to Cincinnati. He finished the season with a 7-13 record.

Big Newk said arm miseries from a pull back muscle were his biggest problem last year, but he conquered them before the season was over.

Newk said his arm hasn't bothered him at spring training, "but I have my fingers crossed."

And he stubbornly makes no predictions. "Just say I'll try to win as many as possible. This is a better outfit to work for than the Dodgers."

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP)—Vic Wertz figures he may get to play more baseball this year because he's not too fast on his feet.

The big bald-headed first baseman says there's nowhere in the American League he would rather play than Fenway Park.

"I'm very, very happy with the trade," Vic said, referring to the deal that brought him and outfielder Gary Geiger to the Red Sox from Cleveland in return for Jim Piersall.

"I always wished that if I ever got traded I would go to the Red Sox," Wertz said. "Fenway is my favorite park. That's where I've hit the best."

NCAA Tourney Ready for Eliminations

New York, Lexington Slated To See First Of Basketball Trials

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The NCAA, with all 23 brackets filled, gets down to the business of picking its 1959 major college basketball champion tonight with a tripleheader in New York and two games at Lexington, Ky.

The field was completed Monday night when Cincinnati qualified as the Missouri Valley Conference representative and New Mexico State won the Border Conference playoff.

Cincinnati turned back St. Louis 66-59 for a 13-1 conference record although All-America Oscar Robertson sat out the last seven minutes with five fouls after scoring 22 points. Big "O" ended the regular season as the nation's No. 1 major college scorer with a 33.2 average.

New Mexico State defeated Arizona State University 78-57 for the Border title and a 17-10 over-all mark.

With the NCAA landing basketball's coveted Oscar, the National Invitation Tournament field of 12 was completed by the addition of Bradley, runner-up in the Missouri Valley. Bradley had a 12-2 conference record.

After tonight's tripleheader at New York's Madison Square Garden and the doubleheader at Lexington, it will take a single game Wednesday night at Las Cruces, N.M., to reduce the field to 16 for the four regional tournaments starting Friday at Charlotte, N.C., Evanston, Ill., Lawrence, Kan., and San Francisco.

Here is the lineup for tonight's games with team records:

At New York — West Virginia (25-4) vs Dartmouth (22-5), Connecticut (17-6) vs Boston University (18-6), North Carolina (20-4) vs Navy (16-5).

At Lexington — Eastern Kentucky (16-5) vs Louisville (16-10), Bowling Green (18-7) vs Marquette (22-4).

Wednesday night Idaho State (19-6) tackles New Mexico State (17-10) at Las Cruces.

Third-ranked Cincinnati, which beat NIT-bound St. Louis 57-50 earlier in the season, had to go all out to wrap up its second straight appearance in the NCAA postseason competition.

Dick Hoover Shines In Bowling Test

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Dick Hoover, the former boy wonder of bowling, rolled some professional caliber scores Monday and recovered from an embarrassing opening-night performance in the American Bowling Congress Tournament.

The Akron, Ohio, ace had a feeble 332 for the Akron Shur-Hooks in team play Sunday night. He came back Monday with 610 in the Doubles and 662 in the singles to bring his all-events total to a respectable 1804.

Tigers Add Heft To Pitching Staff

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Detroit Tigers added some heft to their pitching staff this winter by obtaining Ray Narleski and Don Mossi from Cleveland. What they're looking for now is a strong comeback by Billy Hoelt, their southpaw ace of three years ago.

If Hoelt continues to make a good showing, look for the 41 odds currently quoted on the Tigers' American League pennant chances to drop rapidly.

Monday the 26-year-old southpaw looked every bit the pitcher he was in 1956 when he won 20 games. He worked three hitless innings as the Bengals blanked the St. Louis Cardinals 4-0. The losers collected their four hits off the combined offerings of Tom Morgan and Jim Raugh.

With Hoelt, Narleski, Mossi, Frank Lary, Jim Bunning and Paul Foytack in good working order, the Tigers may wind up with the best staff in the league.

Another question mark lefty, Curt Simmons, who has had various arm and leg ills the past couple of years, also turned in a no-hit effort for three innings as the Philadelphia Phillies downed the Washington Senators 6-1.

In other games, the Kansas City A's beat the Baltimore Orioles 4-1, the Chicago White Sox whipped the Pittsburgh Pirates 7-5, the Cincinnati Reds downed the Los Angeles Dodgers 7-2 and the Milwaukee Braves defeated the New York Yankees 9-6.

Harry Anderson shared honors with Simmons in Philadelphia's victory. He belted a three-run homer in the first inning.

The Athletics got slick mound work from Bob Grim and Jack Urban, who limited Baltimore to seven hits. Bob Cerv singled home two of KC's tallies. Rookie Leo Burke homered for the Orioles.

John Romano and John Callison, both first year men, homered for the White Sox. Chicago put to gether four runs in the fifth on Callison's home run and three errors by first baseman Dick Stuart.

Vada Pinson, the Reds' young center fielder, drove in five runs against the Dodgers. He had a homer, triple and single. Brooks Lawrence was the winning pitcher. Duke Snider starred for Los Angeles with two singles.

Lee Maye, still another young outfielder, delivered a vital three-run home for Milwaukee.

Orioles Strong on Mound, But Need Long Ball Hitters

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Association
Sports Editor

MIAMI, Fla.—It was high noon at Miami stadium here and the Gary Cooperish stringbean behind the camera took time out to talk about his 1959 production. The stringbean, without any guns, but plenty of film, was Paul Richards, the drawing Texan who manages the Baltimore Orioles, and does it by typical baseball finesse from the dugout and plenty of film footage from the field.

"We feel," he said in his slow reach for wordage, "we have gained in experience from last year. We feel that our pitching staff could be all right. We need a little more scoring punch and at the same time we plan to maintain our high quality of defense."

"I'd say," he continued, "we have more potential this year. Last season we expected to get real help from Billy Loos, Connie Johnson and Charley Beamon and we didn't. However, we got unexpected help from some of the other pitchers. If these three, plus the others, can give up what we expect we should be in good shape with our pitching."

Richards, who has stacks of film piled on his desk in the clubhouse at Miami stadium, taken of his players batting and handling the ball at the bases by both himself and Eddie Robinson, one of his coaches, wasn't kidding about his pitching for last year. The Orioles, although they finished sixth, ranked second in pitching in the American league and their fingers have now added a year of experience.

This year, local observers will tell you, the Oriole pitching staff is a fine one, actually listing six starters plus some bullpen depth. There are no outstanding stars on the firing line but four tossers, Jack Harshman, Billy O'Dell, Milt Pappas and Arnold Portocarrero, won 10 or more games with Hector Brown and Connie Johnson ready for starting roles.

Additionally, the Orioles have some fine looking prospects in camp, including several pitchers who were among the 36 who attended the preliminary instructional camp here.

Perhaps the top-rated newcomer is Jerry Walker who had an 18-4 mark with Knoxville and is ticketed for future stardom. Another is George Bamberger, who won 15 for Vancouver.

"Pitching," said Paul, "is our strongest point but we feel, also, that we have strengthened our infield where we have some depth. And, in Whitey Lockman, we have a fellow who can play several spots for us."

The Orioles added Bobby Avila, Chico Carrasquel, Jim Finigan and Billy Klaus to go with what they had and there should be some hot competition afoot. In Billy Gardner they have one of the finest of all infielders and in Ron Hansen, who has been bothered by injuries, they have a shortstop who is destined for stardom.

Most of the power of the club is leveled in Gus Triandos, the big catcher, who blasted 30 homers last year, and in the veteran outfielders, Bob Nieman and Gene Woodling, who rank with the top hitters in the league.

One question mark may be the center field spot for Jim Busby, fleet outfielder who didn't hit too well, is gone. Ticketed for his spot is a rookie Willie Tasby, who hit .322 and socked 22 homers for Louisville last season.

Back in camp is that $100,000 plus beauty Dave Nicholson, who spent last season in the deep minors and piled up a lot of strikeouts. Richards, however, is high on Nicholson. "He has made tremendous strides," Paul says, "and he'll be a real good ball player for us when he's ready."

Among the newcomers who looked good in the farm camp were Dick Ewing, who was sensational in a Class D loop last year and is a fine outfield prospect; Chuck Estrada, who won 15 for Knoxville, and Fred Valentine, an outfielder who was voted the outstanding player in the Carolina league last year.

The Orioles, who have been training in Arizona, moved to the Florida area this year with the Red Sox, formerly in Florida, now at the Orioles former Scottsdale base.

Hit-Skip Kills Walker

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—John Carpenter, 58, of Rt. 2, Chanderlerville, was killed Monday night when struck by a hit-skip motorist while he hitchhiked along Ohio 146 about seven miles east of here.

Bull Market Hikes Profits On Stocks

Big, Little Holders Gain—Some by Just Sitting There Quietly

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Big and little persons and institutions have been making money in the bull market in stocks. (And some have lost, too). To actually make money in hard cash you've had to sell something you bought for less.

But some count their gains—on paper—by just sitting tight. Here are two case histories—one involving 2 million dollars and the other the story of very little persons indeed.

The big one is the Ford Foundation. They got their General Electric stock by being born on a very lucky day—for them.

The little ones are five years old and it got its stock—and paper profit—by buying it with returns from the sale of some of its Ford Motor shares to the public.

There were 191 children born on Oct. 15, 1953, to employees of General Electric. That happened to be the 75th birthday of the firm and it gave each of 191 winners of its baby derby five shares of GE stock.

At the time the five shares had a total market value of $390. Since then neither time, the stock market, nor GE directors have stood still.

The directors split the stock three for one, so that now the children have 15 shares each instead of five. The directors have declared dividends since the children were born giving each of them a total of $148.50, or 38 per cent of the market value of the shares when they first got them.

Prices have risen on GE stock as on many another. Each child now has shares with a market value of about $1,200.

The Ford Foundation also was lucky, in the sense that Henry Ford I gave it a lot of stock in his motor company. Early in 1956 the foundation sold some of this to the public.

It stated as one aim its wish to diversify its investments, with the proceeds, the foundation bought 40 different kinds of common stock at a total cost of $2,290,900. When its fiscal year ended the stocks had a market value of $2,655,218. This comes to a paper profit of $354,318, or 16 per cent.

Airline Plans Cairn For Pioneer Aviators

WASHINGTON (AP)—Irish Air Lines announced plans today to unveil a memorial June 15 to John Alcock and A. W. Brown, the first men to fly nonstop across the Atlantic Ocean.

The stone cairn, 15 feet high, will be two miles south of Clifden in Ireland's County Galway, a few hundred yards from the spot where the pioneer aviators landed June 15, 1919, after a 16-hour flight from Newfoundland.

Two Youths Sentenced in Juvenile Court

Two youths, ages 15 and 16, received suspended sentences to the Boys Industrial School in Pickaway County Juvenile Court this week.

The youths were apprehended last Wednesday night by local police following a chase. They were accused of stealing gasoline at the Hill Implement Co., W. Franklin St.

They were spotted in an alley at the implement firm taking gasoline. The juveniles, one from here and the other from Lucasville, jumped into a pickup truck and sped away with police in pursuit.

The 16-year-old youth was charged with reckless operation, driving with no operator's license and petit larceny. The 15-year-old boy was charged with petit larceny.

THE JUVENILES' sentences were suspended as was their $10 fine and costs. They were placed on probation for one year and are to be deprived of their driver's licenses for one year after they become eligible.

Sentencing Judge Guy G. Cline took into consideration that it was the youths' first offense.

Vets Poor Relief Totals $2,584.41

The Pickaway County Veterans' Service Office paid out $2,584.41 in veterans poor relief during February.

A breakdown in money spent showed $1,891 allotted for food; $245 for rent; $192.75 for fuel; $194 in doctors' bills; $15.70 for hospital care, and $45.96 miscellaneous.

Public To Decide If Roy Rogers Gets State Fair Invite

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Roy Rogers, one of the top drawing cards at the 1956 Ohio State Fair, may return for this year's exposition, but it's up to the public to decide.

Fair Manager Rowland Bishop and Agriculture Director Robert Terhune said Monday they have a chance to sign a contract for the Rogers troupe. But they added that before signing they want to hear from Ohioans who will be attending the fair.

Terhune said that Rogers, a native of the southern Ohio community of Duck Run—would appear Aug. 28-31. In 1956 the Rogers show netted Ohio $24,916.

"This is not a change in our policy of not bringing Hollywood and TV personalities to the fair," Bishop said, "but we consider the Rogers troupe a family show and Rogers is himself an Ohio product."

There are more than 30,000 teen age members of rocket clubs in the United States.

FB Makes Appointments

Appointment of committees was one of the main items of business when 14 members of the Pickaway County Farm Bureau Board met Saturday night at the local office on E. Main St.

Farm Bureau President T. N. Glick, presiding at the session, introduced State Representative Ed Wallace who gave comments on state legislation.

President Glick announced that 604 members now are affiliated with the Pickaway County Farm Bureau.

Committee appointments announced were: Legislative—Lawrence Liston, chairman, Lewis Hay, Russell Palm, Lawrence Reid, Chester Noecker and one representative from each council.

YOUTH—Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dunkle, chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. Link Brown and others to be appointed; Council—Mr. and Mrs. Dick Tootle, chairmen, and others to be named.

Summer Meeting Committee—Louis Hill, chairman, Mrs. Ralph Dunkle, Mrs. Hoyt Timmons, Mary Shortridge and Ben Grace; Budget—Lewis Hay, chairman, J. B. Stevenson, Link Brown, Ralph Bolender and T. M. Glick; Women's Committee—Mrs. J. B. Stevenson, Mrs. Dorsey Bumgarner, Mary Shortridge, Mrs. Ralph Dunkle, Mrs. Hoyt Timmons and a representative from each council.

The board voted to approve a new hospital plan introduced by Nationwide Insurance. The plan, presented by Charles Murphy and R. Wynn Albright, is to become effective August 1.

Little Left in East Germany Under Reds but Will To Live

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—The will to live is about all the East German people have left after 13 years under communist rule, a Baltimore Sun staff writer said today.

Brynum Shaw, who spent a week behind the Iron Curtain, said in an article from Berlin he found the East Germans have abandoned hope of liberation and reunification.

They also have lost faith in the United States, because they don't believe the U.S. is willing to risk its freedom for theirs.

Shaw said this has produced a "strange feeling of bitterness that borders on contempt."

"The (East Germans) do not believe even that the United States will stand by its pledge to maintain the freedom of West Berlin," Shaw reported.

The Red governmental system isn't getting much support from the East Germans, Shaw said, but the effects of Red rule are quite noticeable.

One East German banker told Shaw he was thoroughly disgusted with the Red system, but the Communists will force the Americans out of Berlin and "it will be only a matter of time before you are forced out of Europe."

"In five years," the German said, "the Americans will be the laughing stock of the world. I think the Americans are yellow."

Shaw reported that the Leipzig shop windows are loaded with goods to impress visitors to the Leipzig fair, but much of what is shown isn't generally available to the East German public.

One East German, wrote Shaw, said "this is the phonest setup in the world."

Living standards have improved somewhat, Shaw said, but costs of some foodstuffs are unreasonably high. For example, an inferior grade coffee costs $10 a pound and meat is expensive.

As for the Red boast that East Germany will surpass West Germany in two years in production and consumption of basic commodities, Shaw quoted one man. "Two years? Maybe in a hundred years."

Pair Faces Hearing in Woodsfield Rape

WOODSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Two Wheeling, W. Va., men face arraignment here today on charges of statutory rape in the assault of a 15-year-old girl Jan. 31.

They are Lloyd Abbott, 25, and Joseph Billy Edgell, 24. Already arraigned on the same charge and awaiting grand jury action under $10,000 bond are Robert Abbott, 21, of Ozark and Ed Smith, 22, of Beallsville. The Abbotts are cousins.

First non-stop Paris to New York flight was made by French Capt. D. Coste and Maurice Bellonte in 1930.
